Try to Determine Extent of American Cooperation

PARLEY IS CERTAIN

President Delays Decisions on Future Policies

London—(U)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today pledged Great Britain's wholehearted cooperation with President Roosevelt in seeking to establish worldwide peace.

The prime minister, making what was considered his most important speech since he succeeded Stanley Baldwin, at the same time cautioned Premier Mussolini of Italy that last Anglo-Italian friendship depends on Italy's decision regarding the foreign troops fighting in Spain's civil war.

Speaking before a conservative party rally at Scarborough, Chamberlain also reminded war-makers that Britain is re-arming on the vastest scale ever attempted in peacetime.

Washington—(U)—President Roosevelt today largely attended press conference today he would make no important decisions on future policies until he has had a chance to talk with his leaders and advisers.

In reply to a series of questions he had he was not sure whether he would make up his mind on a special session of congress before he returned to Hyde Park next Wednesday morning to speak at the 250th anniversary of the establishment of the town of Poughkeepsie and the 150th anniversary of the Constitutional convention.

The president smiled as he remarked the keynote of that speech would be another reference to his great-grandfather Isaac, who was a delegate to the convention.

Washington—(U)—President Roosevelt, returning from his western trip, summoned the cabinet and his chief diplomatic advisers today to consider America's new role in international efforts to stop the Sino-Japanese war.

With the government already committed to participation in the proposed nine-power conference on the conflict, the president and his aids had to determine the extent to which the United States will cooperate in formulating and executing conference decisions.

Before the cabinet meeting, Mr. Roosevelt had an engagement with Secretary Hull and Norman H. Davis, American ambassador at large, who was called here hurriedly from New York.

Davis' presence led some to believe he will be designated by the president to represent the United States at the nine-power parley. He is a veteran of international conferences.

Cooperation Assured

Although the formal invitation for United States participation has not yet been received, Secretary Hull made clear yesterday that this government will take part in conformity with President Roosevelt's expressed determination to cooperate with all peace-loving nations to halt hostilities.

This decision followed speedily the state department's formal denunciation of Japan—closely paralleling action by the League of Nations—as a violator of the nine-power pact which binds signers to respect the territorial and administrative sovereignty of China.

Ambassador Hiroshi Satō of Japan conferred late yesterday with Hull, but said he did not protest against the state department's condemnation. He explained he called on his own initiative to clear up certain points.

The denunciation, he declared, was not likely to strain American-Japanese relations. Instead, he added, recent developments have "clarified the atmosphere," and thus have been calculated to bring about a better understanding between the two nations.

Oil Firm Head Gives Data on Gasoline Price

Chicagoan Maps 'General Setting' at Federal Trial in Madison

LISTS MAIN FACTORS

Witness Tells How Price to Automobile Owner Is Determined

Madison—(U)—An independent gasoline marketer described in federal court today what the government called "the general setting" of an alleged price-raising and fixing conspiracy by 23 major oil companies.

Carl Beroth, Chicago, president of the Acme Petroleum Co., testified as to the general makeup of the oil industry and of the elements that determine the price of gasoline to the consumer.

His preliminary testimony, which government prosecutors said would lay the groundwork for proof of the conspiracy charges, was presented to the jury of 12 men, including retired farmers and small business owners, most of whom heard for the first time about the details of the oil business.

Assuming a price at the refinery in the east Texas or Oklahoma fields of 5 cents a gallon, Beroth testified the gasoline cost about 18 cents a gallon to an automobile owner in Madison.

Explains Price

To the 5 cent starting figure the witness added 21 cents for transportation into this area—one of the 10 midwest states involved in the alleged conspiracy—4 cents for state tax, 1 cent for federal tax, 2 cents to the wholesaler and 31 cents for the filling station operator.

Beroth said that independent firms like his own buy from small independent refiners.

The government charges that the major companies, through a program of buying most of the output of the small refiners, raised and pegged the wholesale tank car price.

Beroth said that a major company combines all the activities of an oil driller, refiner, transporter through its own pipe lines, wholesaler and retailer in key stations.

Jap Proclamation Is First Official Word of Invasion

General's Statement Seen As Equivalent of Declaration of War

Shanghai—(U)—General Iwane Matsui, Japanese commander-in-chief of the Shanghai front, issued a proclamation today—the first official announcement of the Japanese invasion of China—which Chinese consider the equivalent of if not a diplomatically formal declaration of war.

General Matsui declared the Japanese army "is now prepared to use every means to subdue its opponents." In view of previous declarations of Japanese army and navy spokesmen, observers considered this the verbal prelude of Japan's threatened big push against the Chinese defense lines northwest of Shanghai.

Matsui, in the name of the Japanese emperor, promised an early victory and a peaceful future after scouring the "Chinese government army who have been pursuing anti-foreign and anti-Japanese policies in collaboration with communists influences." He added that the lives and property of nationals of third powers would be protected.

His announcement came shortly after army authorities made an implied threat to turn their land and warship batteries against Pootung.

Roy Howell Jones Dies at His Home

Funeral Services for Retired Lumber Dealer Monday Afternoon

Roy Howell Jones, 121 S. Durkee street, retired lumber dealer, died at 8 o'clock this morning at his home. He was born at Manitowish Feb. 24, 1878, lived for a time at Clintonville and came to Appleton in 1888. He was graduated from Lawrence college in 1902.

After college graduation, he entered the lumber business with his father, the late G. W. Jones. In 1919, he was foreign representative for the National Hardware association. In 1922 he started working in the hardware lumber division of the department of commerce under Herbert Hoover, then Secretary of Commerce. He has lived in Appleton for the last four years.

Survivors are the widow; one son, George, Chicago; two brothers, Robert, Appleton, and Frank, Providence, R. I.; one grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the late G. W. Jones, 223 N. Park avenue. Dr. Richard Evans of the Methodist church at Oconomowoc, formerly of Appleton will be in charge. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery, Clintonville.

'Blacklists' Illegal in Michigan, Attorney Says

Lansing, Mich.—(U)—John Fegan, attorney for the state liquor control commission, ruled today that so-called "blacklists" which bar consumers from purchasing liquor because of habitual drunkenness are illegal.

Fegan said an investigation of the law revealed "no right or city council possesses the right to discriminate against any person or in addition such action may make councils liable in actions for slander.

Assembly Preparing for Busy Week in Attempt to Act on Governor's Bills

Episcopalians in Debate Over Plan To Shorten Name

Madison—(U)—The assembly today arranged a heavy program of work on the new legislation presented by Governor LaFollette with no assurance that any of the 11 bills offered by the chief executive will clear the hurdle before adjournment Oct. 16.

Only seven legislative days remain before the lawmakers must go home under the resolution they have adopted.

The house voted to start committee meetings on the governor's program Saturday—usually an off day for the legislature—but the revolt of anti-Progressive forces against the governor's "hurry up" plans continued in the senate.

All members of the assembly will sit as a committee of the whole starting at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to consider the governor's bills. The hearings will be continued Monday and Tuesday after which they are scheduled to come to a vote in the house.

Assail Governor

Senate Democrats and Republicans renewed their attack on the governor for offering such an extensive program "to be considered in so short a time" and prevent administration leaders from scheduling the bills for hearing" in committee of the whole.

Seven new subjects were added in the governor's first amendment of the call for the special session. They included creation of a state agriculture authority, organized after the WDA, a new department of commerce, re-enactment of the trade codes, extension of the mortgage moratorium law, a new chain store tax, a housing act and revision of the old age pension laws.

Call Again Amended

The legislators scarcely had a chance to digest general details of these bills when the governor amended the call a second time to include measures which would reorganize state departments, allow Milwaukee to increase school taxes, change the statutes relating to employment of minors and repeal a law for relocation of a highway in Pierce county.

The governor contended the legislature would enact all or a substantial part of this program if they would work diligently. His political foes, in reply, maintained that he was attempting to enforce "gag rule" and trying to enact bills without adequate public hearing.

Agreement Puts End to Wausau Labor Dispute

Wausau—(U)—Part of the 270 employees of the Underwood Veneer company plant out on strike returned to work today, following the settling of the five-week labor dispute today. Circuit Judge A. R. Murphy of Marinette was instrumental in reaching the agreement.

Agreement, following a three-day conference here with company and union officials. The workers will return to work Monday.

The company granted a modified closed shop and the A. F. of L. Carpenters' union was named as the exclusive bargaining agency. The work week will be 50 hours, with time and half for overtime and double time on Sundays and holidays. A grievance committee will confer later on readjustments and pay increases. Present wages will not be lowered during the life of the contract, which extends to Sept. 1, 1938.

Hunt for Killers Now Extends to Minnesota

St. Paul—(U)—On the hunt for killers who used a stolen St. Paul automobile in killing an Ohio highway patrolman, Lieutenant R. W. Alvis, member of the Ohio state highway patrol, arrived here today by plane.

The stolen car was found burning Thursday near Cambridge, Minn. Its motor number is the same, officers said, as the number which Patrolman George Conn of the Ohio patrol had jotted down in a notebook Sept. 28 near Freeport, Ohio, before he was slain.

Lieutenant Alvis, with Lieutenant Raymond Doenges, head of the St. Paul police auto theft department, and other officers, left for the spot where the car was found. One of the clues for which Lieutenant Alvis is looking is the police cap and shield of Patrolman Conn which were missing.

Matanuska Put on Budget Under New 'Security and Development' Program

Palmer, Alaska—(U)—Harvest time is budget-making time for the Matanuska colonists.

A family of five—but then most colonists' families have that many or more children, so let's say a family of 10—may have a monthly food budget of $28. The clothing item for the 10 may reach $30 a month.

Where does it come from, of course, is to pay the bill, or try to, and that's being worked out in a new pay rate schedule for clearing and improving land.

The whole scheme is in a new "security and development" program set up by Stewart C. Campbell, colony administrative agent. It is a plan whereby a fund up to $1,200 a year is allotted to each colonist's 40-acre tract. The fund must be "earned" and from it living and other expenses may be "drawn."

The program has been planned and the rates for clearing land increased," Campbell said, "to enable each colonist to earn the entire tract allocation during the coming winter months."

Charged With Murder Committed 7 Years Ago

Oconto—(U)—Theodore Schuller, 25, held for Michigan authorities in connection with the slaying of Alexander Jatkowski, 68, sought his release today on a habeas corpus action.

Named in a murder warrant, Schuller was arrested Wednesday at Sobieski. He faces an extradition hearing Saturday.

Jatkowski, victim of a hammer slayer, was found dead in his home at Menominee, Mich., April 6, 1930.

Police questioned Schuller in 1932, but he was released after signing a statement concerning his whereabouts at the time of the slaying. Authorities continued checking his story and finally issued the murder warrant.

Dispute Opens In Federation Over Delegate

Credentials Group Accused Of Giving Printers' Union 'Run-Around'

GREEN IS ANGERED

A. F. of L. Extending Activities to White Collar Workers

Denver—(U)—Dr. W. R. Trotter of the Printers' union accused the American Federation of Labor conventions credentials committee today of giving his union "the run-around" in delaying the seating of Charles P. Howard, CIO secretary, as a delegate.

As president of the International Typographical union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, Howard presented credentials to the convention as a delegate.

The Carpenters' union protested on the ground Howard had signed a CIO charter for Pacific coast lumbermen.

The credentials committee announced this morning it would give Howard and the carpenters a hearing next Monday—the day the CIO meeting is slated to start in Atlantic City, N. J., Trotter protested.

Wants Quick Action

"Why can't this case be heard to-night?" he asked. "We're well aware that we're being given the run-around."

William Green, A. F. of L. president, banged his gavel and told Trotter he was out of order.

"You have no right to rise and accuse the committee of giving you the run-around," Green said. "The business of the convention is being carried forward in an orderly way."

"Even if it's true," Trotter retorted, then took his seat.

Howard's dual position as president of an A. F. of L. union and secretary of the rebel CIO went unchallenged in both camps until the carpenters protested his seating at the current convention.

Extends Sphere

The American Federation of Labor moved today to extend its sphere into the "white collar" workers field, bringing it into opposition with the CIO on a new front.

President William Green summoned leaders of A. F. of L. office workers' unions attending the federation convention here to a conference tomorrow. He said they would form a national council and eventually an international union.

The federation has until now sponsored only local organizations of office workers.

Awaiting convention action next week are resolutions authorizing expulsion from the federation of the ten unions already suspended because of CIO affiliations. Their adoption appeared as certain as approval of another condemning "militaristic fanatics now in control of Japan" and calling for a labor boycott on Japanese products.

Cher Brawl Proposed

Delegates cheered and stamped their feet, clapping loudly, when Green read a cablegram yesterday from Sir Walter Citrine, British trades union congress secretary, proposing that Britain and the United States join in boycott move.

"If I can have my way, I will prevail upon this historic convention to join in a boycott on this aggression. I know our answer to this appeal will be favorable," Green told them.

Rubber Life Raft Not Lost Amelia's

Markings Not Same as Those on Raft Bought By Aviatix

Clifton, N. J.—(U)—Officials of Air Cruisers, Inc., said today the deflated rubber life raft found on the shore at Hawaii, Hawaii, was not the one Amelia Earhart purchased for her round-the-world flight.

The lost aviatix, they said, bought a two-place yellow raft bearing only the name "Air Cruisers." The raft found at Hawaii had other markings.

Honolulu—(U)—A deflated rubber life raft tossed ashore at Hawaii, northwest tip of Hawaii island, spurred investigation today of its possible connection with the disappearance of Amelia Earhart on her ill-fated globe-circling venture.

The raft, bearing the trademark, "J. Lansing Callan air craft," the boat in the bag, Hammondsport, N. Y., was found yesterday.

J. Lansing Callan of Albany, N. Y., said Air Cruisers, Inc., of Hammondsport, N. Y., a firm controlled by his brother, J. Lansing Callan, had constructed a special rubber raft for Miss Earhart's around-the-world flight.

No numbers or printing other than the trademark were discernible. The raft contained two seats and one pair of leather car locks. It measured about 7 by 24 feet.

Burglar Sentenced to Term in State Prison

Rhineland—(U)—County Judge H. F. Steele sentenced Harold Hackett, 30, yesterday to five to six years in the state prison on a charge of breaking and entering in the night time. Another sentence of one to three years on a charge of larceny was to run concurrently. Hackett pleaded guilty to robbing Anton Anderson, tavern keeper, of more than $45.

Yankees Make it Three Straight Over Giants, 5-1

Hal Schumacher Too Wild to Stop American Leaguers

ERRORS BIG FACTOR

Victors are Helped by National League's Mistakes

Polo Grounds, New York—(U)—Before the crumbling defenses of their rivals, the Yankees pounded out their third straight victory in the world series today, defeating the Giants 5 to 1 as the National Leaguers committed four errors and their ace right-hander, Hal Schumacher, proved too wild to stop the enemy sluggers.

First Inning

Yankees—Crossetti walked on four pitched balls, Danning protesting the last two decisions. Rolfe lined to Rippe. With DiMaggio up, one of Schumacher's slants caromed off Danning's foot for a wild pitch and Crossetti sprinted to third. DiMaggio struck out. Gehrig bounced out. Whitehead to McCarthy. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

Giants—Moore was thrown out by Crossetti. Bartlett lifted a high fly to DiMaggio. Ott hoisted to DiMaggio in deep center. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning

Yankees—Dickey lashed a long drive that Chiozza grabbed in deep right center opposite the 440-foot mark. Selkirk walked with the count three and two. Hoag singled to left. Selkirk stopping at second. Lazzeri drilled a single to center, scoring Selkirk and sending Hoag to third. Pearson walked on four pitches, filling the bases. Crossetti hit into a force play, Danning taking Ott's throw and tagging Hoag at the plate. Rolfe fouled to Danning. One run, two hits, no errors, three left.

Giants—Ripple bounded out to Gehrig, unassisted. McCarthy lined to DiMaggio. Chiozza fouled to Rolfe near the third base coaching box. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning

Yankees—DiMaggio flied to Chiozza, who made the catch a few feet in front of the center-field barrier. Gehrig lined a hit off the right field wall and ran to second when Rippe threw to first base in an attempt to catch Lou. It was scored as a single. Dickey smashed the first pitch for a triple off the left field wall, scoring Gehrig. Selkirk singled to right on the sacrifice. Ott to McCarthy. Lazzeri was intentionally walked. Pearson fanned after a count of three and nothing. Two runs, three hits, no errors, two left.

Giants—Danning popped to Lazzeri. Gehrig ran back to get Whitehead's pop foul near the first base stands. Schumacher was called out on strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fourth Inning

Yankees—Ott took Crossetti's sharp grounder on the first bounce and threw him out. Rolfe lined a hit to right and made a good throw to second when Rippe threw wide to second base. It was a double. DiMaggio beat out an infield single to Ott. Rolfe taking third. Gehrig flied to Moore and Rolfe scored standing up. DiMaggio held first when Bartlett intercepted Moore's throw. Dickey forced DiMaggio. Whitehead to Bartlett. One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Giants—Crossetti threw out Moore, making a nice stop of JoJo's hard ground smash. Bartlett rolled out. Crossetti to Gehrig. Ott fanned, swinging. It was the fourth straight inning in which Pearson had required the Giants in order. No hits, no runs, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning

Yankees—McCarthy fumbled Selkirk's roller and the Yankee outfielder ran to second when a belated throw came in.

Superior Reproves Father Coughlin For His Criticism

Detroit—(U)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin has been reproved by his newly-appointed superior for his only comment on public affairs since Archbishop Edward Mooney was installed as head of the Detroit Catholic archdiocese.

Archbishop Mooney, writing in the current issue of the Michigan Catholic, said the Royal Oak priest used "unfortunate words" in referring to President Roosevelt's appointment of Justice Hugo L. Black as "personal stupidity."

Father Coughlin made the statement in a press conference Monday and said that when he starts a new series of radio addresses Oct. 31 the archbishop, "or one of his appointees, will be responsible to censor my prepared addresses. . . as did Bishop Gallagher through one of his appointees."

The archbishop said he felt "called upon to state publicly" that Father Coughlin's remarks were not "submitted for review by me or to someone appointed by me."

Archbishop Mooney expressed "my own deep regret" that Father Coughlin "did not have the prudent counsel of a friendly critic."

As Economy Measure

Rederante, Wis.—(U)—As an economy measure the village of Rederante will remove Marshal Robert Donnan from office Oct. 15. In his place, two men from the relief roll will alternate as night watchmen.

Planada, a further saving, the village is negotiating with a privately owned utility in an attempt to terminate its street lighting contract. If the contract can be voided the board is prepared to lock up the street light switchboard for good.

The economy moves are being made because the granite quarries no longer provide the municipality with an income. Many residents are unemployed.

Powers Wonder if Japan Can be Forced to Put End To Aggression in China

Must Try to Sidestep War Dangers at Nine-Power Treaty Conclave

New York.—The capitals of the world, profoundly stirred by President Roosevelt's barbed condemnation of war, are asking if there really is likely to grow out of this anything to compel Japan to cease its invasion of China.

Japan has given ample evidence that mere words will not stop her, and while several schemes have been suggested, the pundits thus far have not found one which does not hold out probabilities of more war. And more war is precisely what most people wish to avoid.

Powers Under Treaty

This conference would bring together a formidable group. The countries subscribing to the treaty are America, Britain, China, Japan, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Portugal, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Mexico and Bolivia.

Presumably Japan would not attend what would amount to a court martial to try her. Some are wondering whether Italy might also stand aloof. Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia is too fresh in mind to permit him to condemn his friends of the Far East.

One thing is certain—the conference would contain enough dynamite to blow half the world off the map. That's why most observers believe the conferees will proceed discreetly if they meet.

Among suggestions being bandied about to stop the Sino-Japanese difficulties is one that Britain and the United States sever trade relations with Japan.

That would teach the folk of the island empire a real lesson. For does not Japan get some 45 per cent of her vital supplies from America and another 30 per cent from the British empire? Seventy-five per cent, or thereabouts, including materials necessary for the manufacture of munitions.

Everybody knows that Japan has been worried over the danger of losing her supplies.

An Anglo-American embargo would just about put Japan out of business — on paper. Naval men, however, contend such a scheme would develop ramifications leading to war.

Also, unscrupulous tradesmen would start shipping via foreign countries to Japan, and it would be a job to stop this. Other nations would rush in to supply Japan with the things she was deprived of by America and England.

How about a blockade of Japan by the British and American navies — the two biggest fleets in the world? Could they do the job?

They could, according to the wise men, but they still would be asking for war. Moreover, while the situation in Europe remains so delicate, the British would be uneasy about making many more ships to the Far East.

Elks to Sponsor Scholarship in Good Citizenship

Pamphlets on Eligibility Being Distributed In Schools

Pamphlets describing eligibility and basis of the citizenship award, given by Appleton Lodge No. 337, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks to an outstanding high school student, were distributed at the school today.

The Wisconsin Elks association, in order to encourage youthful achievement in good citizenship, has established an annual scholarship award of $300 for Wisconsin high school seniors.

The Appleton lodge, in addition to participation in the state award, has provided for an annual award to a local high school senior outstanding in citizenship. The Appleton winner automatically becomes eligible for competition in the state award.

Both boys and girls are eligible for the award. Excellence in citizenship shall be construed to embrace character, service, and leadership during four years at school.

The award, to be given on high school awards day, will be $100 to be applied on tuition, fees and book expenses at any college.

'L' Club to Sponsor 'Dad's Day' Tomorrow At Lawrence College

Fathers of Lawrence college students will be guests at the Carleton game here tomorrow and at other events planned for Dads' Day, sponsored annually by the college "L" club.

Fathers will be entertained at fraternity smokers tonight. Tomorrow morning they will attend classes. At noon, students will bring the "Old Man" to luncheon at fraternities and dormitories. An hour later the fathers will attend the pep meeting at the chapel and then go to Whiting field for the game that starts at 2 o'clock.

They will be invited to Brokaw hall for an open house after the game and will be guests at a dance in the evening at the Alexander gymnasium.

and raze the industrial area across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai unless Chinese batteries there ceased firing at Japanese civilian areas in the Hongkew sector of the international settlement.

Questioned concerning the significance of the proclamation an army spokesman explained that Matsui, after gathering the necessary military units, now considered himself qualified to carry out the mission entrusted to him by Emperor Hirohito.

The Japanese army, the spokesman said, was prepared to utilize all reinforcements and additional equipment, but he declined to say whether the big push was planned to begin on Oct. 10, the Chinese national holiday.

An official Nanking spokesman characterized the Japanese commander's proclamation as a "modern declaration of war," and declared it is a mere smoke screen in an attempt to excuse "invasion of a peaceful country."

Chinese officials and foreign diplomats generally expressed belief the proclamation was in reply to protests from Washington and other capitals against Japan's military activities in China.

In the implied threat against Pootung a Japanese army spokesman asserted the Japanese had avoided inflicting damage on the Pootung waterfront, which is largely foreign-owned docks and factories, but that, if the Chinese repeated last night's bombardment, they would be forced to take action.

The duel between the Chinese batteries and the Japanese warships was the severest night engagement of the war which was four months old today. The concussion of the heavy shells shattered windows in scores of buildings on the waterfront, and shook the city to its foundations.

The deadly artillery battle went on under black, rain-laden skies as the Japanese warships ploughed Pootung with scores of shells and the Chinese batteries there blasted the riverfront and reached inland to Hongkew.

While the two armies were mired down in the indecisive struggle for the Shanghai sector, Japanese authorities announced their forces were preparing for the next stage of the North China offensive with an advance against Shihkiachwang and Taiyuanfu railroads.

Japanese disclosed the first activity of their warplanes in North China in many days, asserting they had downed five Chinese planes in dog fights after a Chinese air patrol had attempted a surprise raid on Pootung, captured capital of Hopei province 80 miles southwest of Peiping.

China reported that eight Japanese planes yesterday dropped 27 bombs on the railway station at Soochow, 45 miles west of Shanghai, and machine-gunned fleeing passengers. Twenty-six persons were said to have been killed and 60 wounded.

Chinese declared that 20 Japanese planes had raided Nanking, the capital, causing little damage and losing two planes in a dogfight and from anti-aircraft fire.

Lawrence Lauds Foreign Policy Of United States

Says President Has Started In Only Direction to Economic Recovery

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington.—The whole course of human events in the next decade may be shaped by the new turn in American foreign policy which President Roosevelt has so courageously expressed by his words and his action in the last 48 hours.

The objective is not merely to end bloodshed, but to establish once more an economic equilibrium so that reemployment and prosperity may ensue.

For the problem of America is the problem of the other nations as well. Without world trade, there can be curtailed production, more unemployment, insolvency and human misery.

The president's policy is statesmanship of transcendent value. In situations there are without number over his conduct of various domestic policies, but, just as he was heading for the fork in the road that might mean fiscal disaster to America, Mr. Roosevelt has started in the only direction that can possibly lead our nation to real economic recovery and a sound fiscal position.

The crying need of today for America is an increased volume of transactions—more business, more trade, more production, more employment. The home market, to be sure, has never been cultivated with sufficient intensity, but the foreign market has in the past given American producers many billions of dollars in trade. It can do so again.

There are and have always been two schools of thought on this point. One argues that we should be self-contained, erect high tariff walls to exclude other countries' goods, and, in short, pursue a policy of economic nationalism. The other argues that we exchange goods on a fair basis with other countries, that we should reduce tariffs as far as possible, that we make reciprocal treaties to encourage volume of trade, and that restrictions upon gold exchange be gradually removed. Such a program is often called enlightened nationalism.

Believed in Policy

This correspondent has for more than 20 years championed the second course, believing that the policy of international cooperation as outlined by President Wilson, would, if adopted, have saved the world from the catastrophe of 1929 and that the transformation of the German and Italian democracies into dictatorships would thus have been avoided.

Cordell Hull, secretary of state, has contended in season and out of season, when he had the ear of the world and when he didn't, that economic nationalism leads to war and human conflict. The Republic in party made its major error of the last campaign when it refused to command the objectives of the Hull policy, and this point was emphasized by the writer before and after the Cleveland convention last year.

Today, Mr. Roosevelt, after being for three years somewhat lukewarm toward the Hull policies, has embraced them wholeheartedly. It was the only course he could take in a world in which democracies were rapidly being rendered less and less able to protect themselves, not only against the ravages of war, but the ravages of economic depression growing out of nationalistic policies all over the world.

Those who do not believe in the world trade idea and the importance of building volume of business by improving trade relations must accept the alternative policy—domestic regimentation, the rationing of what we have within our borders, and an almost arbitrary redistribution of wealth. They can hardly say the New Deal to date has not been a logical corollary of economic nationalism.

For there isn't enough volume of business within the United States to support an economy in which higher and higher labor costs means higher and higher prices. There isn't enough national income to keep on paying the necessary taxes to maintain relief rolls indefinitely. The United States can produce more food and more manufactured goods without increasing its acreage or its plant capacity. The Brookings institution, in its significant studies, points out that even in 1929 we never used 100 per cent of our plant capacity.

Prices can be kept from soaring only if production can be increased and a market found for our products. The proposed system of crop control which Mr. Roosevelt wants put into law at the coming session of congress is a kind of economic nationalism—a contradiction of his international policy—but he will seek to justify it no doubt as a temporary measure until the world economy and world purchasing power can be restored.

Will Buy Products

The criticism which the isolationist will make of the international cooperationist doctrine outlined above is that the rest of the world doesn't have the money to buy our goods, that it is now using substitutes. But the other nations will forego the cheaper substitutes and will buy our products if their businesses are restored. They need capital, as do many of our home industries.

In Kentucky, much gold is buried. It is unused. A portion of it—the "profit" from devaluation—can form the basis of a proper use of international credit to rid the world of war and dictatorships. Germany accepted Hitler only as the alternative to anarchy. So did Italy embrace Mussolini. The German and Italian peoples will get their liberties back when famine and unemployment and shortages of goods and credit no longer menace their security. Revolutions and dictatorships are the diseases of poverty and not the phenomena of prosperity.

How is economic improvement related to our new foreign policy? The primary need of the world is peace and stabilization of trade. They go together. Such added employment as is given to the workers in Europe has resulted from armament building. This is unsound. When it ends, there is danger of world-wide economic repercussions. America's duty together with Britain and France is to build the foundations of a new peace. And with peace comes trade.

The way the United States government and the league of nations are standing together now to save democracy in the world is the most heartening development since 1917, when the flower of America's youth crossed the ocean to help "make the world safe for democracy." The slogan has often since been spoken with cynicism, but this cannot rob the words of their biting truth. Woodrow Wilson foresaw the danger to democracy. He threw America's resources into the fray to help save democracy. His action did save the British, French and American democracies for two decades, but it remains now for Franklin Roosevelt to keep democracy from being destroyed by civil wars and the aggression of dictatorship and fascist states.

Will Buy Products

The criticism which the isolationist will make of the international cooperationist doctrine outlined above is that the rest of the world doesn't have the money to buy our goods, that it is now using substitutes. But the other nations will forego the cheaper substitutes and will buy our products if their businesses are restored. They need capital, as do many of our home industries.

In Kentucky, much gold is buried. It is unused. A portion of it—the "profit" from devaluation—can form the basis of a proper use of international credit to rid the world of war and dictatorships. Germany accepted Hitler only as the alternative to anarchy. So did Italy embrace Mussolini. The German and Italian peoples will get their liberties back when famine and unemployment and shortages of goods and credit no longer menace their security. Revolutions and dictatorships are the diseases of poverty and not the phenomena of prosperity.

Japan Is Drafting Formal Statement To Answer Critics

Expected to Spurn Conference and Denounce Nine-Power Treaty

Tokio.—(U)—The Japanese foreign office announced today that the "imperial Japanese government" was drafting a formal statement of Japan's attitude on her condemnation by the United States and the League of Nations for violation of the nine-power treaty guaranteeing China's territorial integrity.

Reliable sources indicated Japan would denounce the treaty as obsolete and inapplicable in the present emergency. Japan, these sources implied, would refuse to participate in any conference of the treaty signatories.

"These are the national sentiments," the foreign office spokesman said. He declined, however, to say whether the government's answer would be dictated by national sentiments. The time for issuing the statement was not announced but it was expected tonight.

Improvement in Shares

The Tokio Stock exchange, which had been thrown into consternation by President Roosevelt's speech advocating concerted action to "quarantine" aggressor nations, opened slightly stronger today. Certain shares usually considered a barometer slipped five or six points.

At the same time, the army declared in a communique that Chinese losses up to Oct. 5 in three months of undeclared war with Japan totaled a quarter million killed and wounded.

The communique said the number of Chinese bodies counted in the Shanghai area was 56,767 and this did not represent the total Chinese losses on that front. The Japanese had captured, the communique added, 580 prisoners, 482 machine guns and 3,147 rifles.

Papers Warn U. S.

The Japanese press in editorial comment on the American condemnation sharply warned the United States to continue her neutrality.

Miyoka declared "it is liable to disturb peace in the Orient, giving rise to world conflict," while Hoch warned "any attempt by various powers to bring concentrated pressure on Japan must be repulsed with vigor."

The newspaper, Asahi, however, declared: "The United States possesses the fairest conception of world affairs, especially regarding the Far East. All intelligent Americans know its foreign policy will continue to be directed with discretion and caution."

"Thus, United States support of the league is most likely to be continued to moral support and, even if it accepts the league's invitation to a nine-power conference, it is not imaginable that the United States will entirely disregard Japan's position and claim."

brands a major power as an aggressor and which shortly must refuse all economic aid to that same nation in its invasion of a weaker state.

The heart of the league covenant, Mr. Wilson used to say, was article 10, by which the nations of the world were to respect each other's territorial integrity and independence. It is still today the heart of world peace. And though we are not rigidly associated with any league or group of powers, America takes her traditional place as the champion of righteousness, ready to apply the deadly sting of its moral force to the nations which prefer barbarism to humanity.

Oshkosh Firemen Lose Vests; Will Get Windshields

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh.—Firemen of this city will lose their vests and Oshkosh fire trucks will gain windshields if it is decided Thursday night at a meeting of the Oshkosh Police and Fire board.

The commission acted favorably on a request from the firemen of Oshkosh which would permit them to eliminate the wearing of vests and allow them to substitute blue chambray shirts with collars attached and whipcord trousers. The apparel will be worn in the future while on duty in the fire stations or at fires, and the regulation uniform will be preserved for street wear.

The change will be made in the interests of efficiency, Commissioner Alex Bradford stated.

A second request from the firemen asking that windshields be installed on local fire trucks was also favorably acted on by the board. It was pointed out they are very necessary, for the protection of the drivers, especially in inclement weather, and may be cheaply installed by Oshkosh labor.

Britain Is Elated Over Roosevelt's Speech, Eden Says

Discusses Future Steps Under Treaty With U. S. Charge d' Affaires

London.—(U)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today expressed the British government's "gratification" over President Roosevelt's speech to the American charge d'affaires, Herschel V. Johnson, and told him that Great Britain considered it a "real contribution" toward peace.

At the same time, informed sources said, Eden and Johnson during their meeting yesterday, discussed the general implications of the United States president's call for cooperation of "peace-loving nations." They also went over the procedure to be followed in the coming nine-power conference to deal with the Japanese invasion of China.

Informed sources hinted it was unlikely Washington, London or any other big capital would be chosen as the scene of the nine-power talks. It was indicated The Hague would be considered, in view of The Netherlands' important trade interests in the Far East.

Wait for Mussolini

With these developments indicating the United States was increasingly taking over Britain's traditional role as the holder of the international balance of power, at least in the current situation, the British were silent on Il Duce's delay in answering their bid for a tripartite conference to discuss the getting of foreigners out of Spain.

Britain stood by France, however, ready to support immediate decisive action to counter Italian moves if Premier Mussolini's reply to the volunteers-in-Spain question fails to equal Anglo-French requirements.

It was generally agreed in diplomatic circles in London and Paris that, if Italy's answer appeared the least bit conciliatory, one last effort might be made to induce Mussolini to act swiftly in getting down to a discussion of the problem of withdrawing foreigners from Spain.

May Open Frontier

But if the reply were held unacceptable—and there was reason to believe the note, as forecast by Mussolini's newspaper this morning, would not be acceptable—the time for further appeals and protests would be considered past.

Then France would be almost certain to insist on immediate opening of the Pyrenees frontier so arms, munitions and airplanes could be transported to the Valencia government—a step to which Britain would not object.

Lifting by both France and Britain of the existing ban on the export of arms to Spain would seem a logical sequel.

The Italians, it was generally believed, would then speed up shipments to Generalissimo Francisco Franco, the insurgent leader, and Europe almost inevitably would be faced with the peril of seeing arms race to supply both parties to the civil war.

Business World Jittery; Babson Sees New Upswing

Finance Expert Reviews Conditions in Every Part of Country

BY ROGER BABSON
On Board S. S. Berengaria—Wherever groups gather today the trend of business is the topic of conversation. Events of the past month have made the business world jittery. Pessimism and uncertainty are the fashion of the moment. Does the price break reflect a sharp recession in business, jobs, and sales? If not, is it forecasting such a decline? This is the question everyone in New York was asking when I sailed. Hence, I wired to my field offices for last minute check-ups of conditions in all sections. I have modified these reports in the light of my own figures and have summarized the conclusions for readers' convenience.

New England activity shows only a very modest gain over a year ago.
Total retail trade has been running under the 1936 level in the larger cities. There has been a more marked drop in demand for leathers, shoes, and textiles than usual at this season. While all types of building have fallen below a year ago, non-residential construction has picked up recently. New England has just closed the best tourist and vacation period in its history. This influx of resort money will be a life-saver this fall and winter.

Atlantic Seaboard Mixed
Business conditions vary widely in the middle Atlantic States. Everywhere industrial activity is still above a year ago, but receding noticeably. Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and parts of Pennsylvania report good retail sales. Returns, however, are not so favorable from New York City and New Jersey. Building activity is easing off as it is in nearly every region. Wall street is naturally blue, but fundamentals are sound. Higher payrolls and better retail trade from other sections will help the industrial northeast.

The South is in good shape. Conditions in the farming regions have been ideal. The cotton and tobacco crops are enormous this year. As a result, cotton prices have fallen drastically and tobacco is lower.
Nevertheless, total buying power will top the 1936 total. Textile mills are slowing down through the Piedmont area. Manufacturing plants of all types report a slackening in orders. Yet despite this temporary set-back most of the South offers good sales possibilities.

Middle West Average
East of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio, business conditions—while slackening off—are relatively good. The automobile industry has been a life-saver in building up trade and developing the buying power of thousands of wage workers. Rising rents are keeping home building active despite higher construction costs. Retail trade in this section is from 5 to 10 per cent ahead of last year. Despite the current let-up in motor, chemical, shoe, steel, and other industries, no sharp curtailment is expected.

West of the Mississippi, conditions are more spotty. Some farming communities are much the richer for this year's harvests, while others, where crops are only fair, are still just dragging along. Livestock prices are high, but because grazing conditions are good, animals are be-

LAUGHTON LOOKS TOUGH IN NEW ROLE

He combs the beach, but not his hair in his latest film, a British production. This is the way Charles Laughton looks in his current role.

ing held off the market. Real estate is very dead in this section and new building is slowing down. Nevertheless, as corn and livestock are converted into cash, such areas as Missouri, eastern Nebraska, Kansas, parts of Iowa, the Dakotas, and Minnesota are set for their best autumn business in years.

Southwest Booming
Business is really booming down in the southwest. Lower cotton prices have taken some of the edge off Texas and Oklahoma's hilarity, but this section is still just like a "boom-town". Oil drilling is close to an all-time high. Retail trade is way over last year's figures. Jobless workers are scarce. No real let-down appears to be ahead in these states. Winter tourist business promises to be best on record with this entire section benefiting. I am very optimistic on both the short-term and long-range futures of this rich and growing empire.

Business is also fine in the Rockies—from Pueblo to Spokane. A good year in mining, steel, and other heavy industries has helped many communities and favorable crops and grazing conditions have aided others. Recent easing in metal and wool prices will naturally force some postponement of buying over the next few months. Even so, department store sales are roughly 7 per cent above a year ago. A moderate slowing down will not hurt the mountain area, however, for it has just experienced one of the best twelve months in its entire history.

Pacific Coast Spotty
General business on the coast—particularly in the northwest—is above a year ago, but there has been a sharp drop in retail trade and building recently. Crops have been favorable and farmers of Oregon and Washington are sitting pretty. The labor situation, however, is critical. San Francisco is suffering from its third maritime tie-up in four years. Lumber orders have dropped perpendicularly as building all over the nation and on the coast slows down. Tourist spending in California and good crops in Washington and Oregon are the bright factors in the far west outlook.

Industrial activity in Canada has broken all previous records this year. Right now the eastern provinces and British Columbia have the best outlook. Lumber, paper, steel, and construction are registering wonderful gains. "Poorest crops on record" in some of the drought-hit prairie areas is the only fly in the ointment. General business is 14 per cent above a year ago. However, the recession now prevalent in the States will have at least mild effects in the dominion.

Here and there are a few spots where business is the "best since 1929" with no signs of a let-down.
In other localities, business has stopped as suddenly as a truck putting on its brakes. Taking an average, however, there is no doubt that activity has dropped recently. The Babsonchart—down 4 per cent from last month—verifies this conclusion. It is, however, 3 per cent above last year's level. Yet I am not a pessimist. A new depression is not starting now. Before my return boat docks in New York, business should be bottoming out. So do not get panicky. Hold onto your good stocks. Go ahead with your business plans. Get ready for a new upswing later this year or early next!

Production Mark For Month Is Set By Hammond Herd

Holds High Average of 24.8 Pounds of Butterfat
In Improvement Group

The H. C. Hammond herd, producing 8,403 pounds of milk with 423.3 pounds of butterfat, led production in the Outagamie County Herd Improvement association, No. 5, it was reported today. Second place was taken by the herd of Orville Johnson which produced 8,982 pounds of milk with 209.7 pounds of butterfat. The production average of the Hammond herd was 24.8 pounds of butterfat, and of the Johnson herd, 24.6 pounds of butterfat.

Henry Zebel was owner of the herd which took third place. His cows produced 5,505 pounds of milk with an average of 23.3 pounds of butterfat. The herd of Howard Parker took fourth place with a production of 7,329 pounds of milk with an average of 22.9 pounds of butterfat. Fifth place was taken by the Fred Bunkelman herd which produced 3,858 pounds of milk with an average of 22.5 pounds of butterfat.

First place in individual production was a cow owned by Frank Bacheller. It produced 1,359 pounds of milk with 48.9 pounds of butterfat.

Owners of other high individual producers and their records are:

Moving Pullets To Laying House Best Done Quietly

Should Not be Left on Range During Period Of Cold Fall Rains

Just when is the best time to move pullets from the range to the laying house?

This is a question that poultrymen raise every year, and any one of several reasons may indicate that it's time to do the moving, according to a bulletin received by R. C. Swanson, Outagamie county agricultural agent.

Conditions which J. B. Hayes, state extension poultryman, gives for moving pullets to the laying house include crowded roosting quarters when for lack of space, some are sleeping on the floor, which makes all birds subject to an outbreak of colds; when a few eggs are found on range; or when cold fall rains set in.

Hayes regards the moving of pullets to the laying house as an operation that is best done quietly. The windows of the laying house he would leave open to furnish plenty of fresh air and ventilation and the other three sides closed to avoid draft.

It is well not to leave pullets on range after they start laying under crowded conditions or during a period of cold fall rains, Hayes finds. That the houses be kept open and well ventilated, he explains, as necessary in order that the flock may be hardened off before cold weather. By giving attention to moving at the proper time and to hardening off, much will be done to prevent the colds that may otherwise develop in flocks at this time of the year.

Executive Committee

To Study Hangar Bids

The county airport committee will meet with the county executive committee at 9:30 next Monday morning at the courthouse to discuss bids received for constructing a new hangar at the airport. The bids are higher than the estimates. T. S. Davis, pension administrator, also will confer with the executive committee.

Pegler Calls La Guardia Best New York Ever Had

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—This is a funny mayoralty campaign that we are having in New York.

Jerry Mahoney is running against Fiorello La Guardia, the best mayor the greater city has ever had. Maybe it would be more prudent to say that the Little Flower is "one of the greatest mayors" in the city's history, but that would be holding out on him as the sultan did the time he decorated the wife of the British diplomat with the order of chastity, second class.

The Little Flower has been a swell mayor, the better, of course by contrast with Jimmy Walker and his successor, John O'Brien, who said, when the reporters asked him whom he was going to name police commissioner, "I don't know; they haven't told me yet."

John was honest anyway. The boys up at Tammany hall were going to name the police commissioner and he knew that everyone knew it and was too innocent to pretend otherwise.

John is now retired on a pension of about $12,000 a year, payable to Mrs. O'Brien, too, as long as she lives, should she survive him, and, but for the terrible squawk of indignation, recently, Jimmy Walker, too, would have been eligible for a similar pension on similar terms.

Attempt to Aid Jimmy Was Help to La Guardia

The Walker thing came along just in time to remind the citizens of the Walker administration in all its picturesque details and of the Tammany tinbox mess which preceded La Guardia. The uproar revived the whole business for several weeks and as it turned out, the attempt to take care of Jimmy was all water on La Guardia's wheel. The boys found themselves actually making a campaign for the man they wanted to lick and all for the sake of a $12,000 pension for one individual who had small claim on their gratitude at that.

It was reported that, in gratitude for this readmittance to that which, in his case, may be laughingly referred to as the public service, Jimmy would go out and do some campaigning for Jerry Mahoney. But very soon, in view of the reaction to his appointment to a job, it became apparent that any speeches by him would be more a burden than a help to Jerry. Since then they have been unloading Mr. Walker.

On good authority from Washington it has been reported that Jim Farley had nothing to do with his appointment, and only a few nights ago Quent Reynolds, the sport writer, who is Jerry Mahoney's nephew, telephoned your correspondent to say, "Hey, lay off my Uncle Jerry on that Walker thing. Uncle Jerry is for good government."

"Without fear or favor?" your correspondent asked.

"One hundred per cent, absolutely," Mr. Reynolds said.

Uncle Jerry was a distinguished athlete in his day, but as a politician and statesman in American athletic affairs he erred seriously last year when he opposed American participation in the Nazi Olympics. His motives were good, but if his motion had carried Adolf Hitler would have been spared the humiliation of fleeing from his Caesar's throne every time an American negro won an event.

Hitler refused to admit that any colored boy could defeat any Aryan and, in order, to avoid the necessity of congratulating colored winners on the American team, he engaged in more sprints than all his Aryan athletes combined, ducking up the aisle to a hiding place. It was good for his wind, perhaps, but bad for his prestige with the sportsmen of the world, not that he had any to speak of except in the crazy countries.

Up to now, Jerry has had no more to say against the Little Flower than that he is sympathetic with the communists, but the Little Flower can point to the time when he rushed a gang of communists out of the city hall, in person, for exploiting the sufferings of the poor whom he was trying to help. And he can point also to the support of the Times and the Royalist Herald Tribune, strange company for a bolshevik.

If only some one could get a cop indicted for accepting a free cigar that might give Jerry a police scandal to work on, but there just isn't anything so far, and the poor guy is trying to do an act without material.

As for the Little Flower, he is doing all right. And, for dirt, with the Walker thing refreshed in the public mind, all he needs is one word, "Tammany."

69 Couples Receive Marriage Licenses

During September

That early fall is attractive to young couples planning marriage is revealed in a report of John E. Mantel, Outagamie county clerk, which shows a total of 69 marriage licenses issued in September, one less than the previous month.

Licenses were issued to 502 couples up to Oct. 1 this year, according to the report. In September of last year 80 licenses were issued.

School Nurse Addresses Roosevelt School Faculty

Miss Mary Orbison, school nurse, addressed the faculty of Roosevelt Junior High school yesterday and explained the health program in the schools for this term. Accumulative scholastic records were distributed to teachers by A. G. Oosterhouse, principal.

Miss Ellen Balliet gave a report on her European trip this summer when she spent some time in France studying the language.

The WORLD of STAMPS

BY JAMES B. HATCHER

Switzerland records a fragment of current postal history on a new 10-centime stamp picturing her first automobile postoffice.

Printed in black and yellow, this special stamp was first sold September 5 at the village of Gurnig-elbaz, high in the Alps.

Scott's is pondering whether to catalog this issue. The stamp will be sold only at the traveling post-office, and then only on special occasions. No one knows when the next special occasion is.

Constitutional Stamps

Philadelphians saw America's new constitution commemorative on September 17. Next day Tegucigalpa was buying a new Honduran stamp, inspired by Congressman Sol Bloom and issued as a friendly gesture to commemorate the 150th anniversary of our constitution. In bright hues, this adhesive shows the American and Honduran flags, crossed over a book cover representing the famous document.

Nicaragua has produced a set of 11 lithographed airmail stamps for the same commemorative purpose. And France is about to join the celebration. A blue 1.75 franc stamp has been authorized in Paris. Bloom invited all constitutional governments to issue special stamps on this occasion; Ecuador and Venezuela may follow suit.

Ascension's Birthday

Juan de Ayolas sailed up the Paraguay river in the summer of 1535 with a band of Spanish adventurers. On the spot where Asuncion now stands, they built a blockade for protection against the Guaranis. But these Indians were soon helping to lay out and build a settlement.

Now Paraguay has commemorated the 400th anniversary of the founding of its capital by issuing a set of five bi-colored stamps showing the city's coat-of-arms. Values are 1, 1, 3, 10 and 20 pesos.

At the same time the Paraguayan postoffice produced a three-stamp set to hail the first national Eucharistic congress at Asuncion. The monochrome forms the central figure of the design. Each stamp is printed in red, yellow and blue; values are 1, 3 and 5 pesos. Both sets are miserably printed.

Trengganu Postage Dues

For the first time, the Malay state of Trengganu has issued postage due stamps. The design involves a scroll, with inscriptions in Arabic, English and Chinese. Values and colors are: 1-cent carmine rose, 4-cent yellow green, 8-cent yellow and 10-cent brown.

The women of Trengganu weave silk, the men fish and raise rice and rubber. The sultan, Sir Sulaiman Badar-ul-alam Shah, can count about 190,000 subjects.

The Catalog for 1938

An innovation in Scott's newly published 1938 catalog is the space left at the end of countries for the addition of possible new issues during the coming year. The catalog is 100 pages thicker, lists 2,018 major and minor varieties of stamps not in the 1937 catalog, costs 50 cents more and carries the usual annual price revisions, mostly upward. The new issues were contributed by 168 governments.

New members of the Appleton High school Philatelic society will be introduced to the club at a meeting Monday at the school. Eight new members were signed up by the stamp club in its recent membership campaign. Edward Radtke is faculty advisor of the society.

Violinist Gives Lyceum

Show at Roosevelt School

Rudolph Reiners, Chicago violinist, entertained pupils of Roosevelt Junior High school in the first of a series of lyceum programs Tuesday. Mr. Reiners is nationally known as an instructor and is a member of the Chicago symphony orchestra.

Appleton Librarian Included on Program Of State Convention

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—Librarians of state, city, college and university libraries will gather in Madison for the forty-sixth annual meeting of the Wisconsin Library Association next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The librarians will mostly talk "shop," which to them means school problems, books, staff problems, and reports from county library associations. There will also be exhibits, a banquet and speeches, including one by President C. A. Dykstra of the University of Wisconsin.

Sybil Schuette of the Kellogg library of Green Bay will be one of the speakers at the large libraries section, while Mary de Jonge of the Appleton public library will discuss reference topics at the reference library section meeting.

The group will also hear speeches by state librarians, members of the library commission, and will visit the various state libraries at the capital.

JUDICIAL DIGNITY SAVED

Indianapolis — Indiana's supreme court justices, after wearing business suits on the bench half a century, have put on black robes again for dignity's sake.

They quit wearing robes because they became too hot in an office building where they held court during building of the present statehouse.

They donned them again in September for the ceremony admitting more than 100 new lawyers to the bar.

Thirty-two Rhodes scholarships are assigned annually to American youths.

Pen Is Mightier Than Sword in Family Rows

BY DOROTHY DIX

We have schools of correspondence for teaching law, medicine, stenography, building airplanes, music, art and whatnot, but nobody has started a school of correspondence for settling family differences by mail.

DOROTHY DIX

Now deplorable and demoralizing as a family fight is, its worse feature is that it gets nowhere and settles nothing, because the participants are never able to stick to the main issue. The row may begin over whether the wife really needs a new dress and has nothing to wear, when she has a closet full of clothes as can be proved by anybody who will take the trouble to go and look at them.

Or whether the husband really needs to hire a secretary who looks as if she had just stepped out of the Folies, or whether or not his alibi about staying downtown last night is really water tight? All common, honest, time-tried family stuff as good for a row in any household as a nickel is for a ginger cake, and that heaven knows, it would be grand to have settled once and for all and off the docket.

But do the belligerents fight it out on that line, if it takes all summer? Not at all. Almost before you can say eat, they have side-tracked the original cause of the fight and have raked up grievances that have nothing whatever to do with the case. The wife is reminding the husband of the time he came home five years ago from a stag party so lit he couldn't find the keyhole, and of the money he loaned an old schoolmate who never paid it back, and of his sister Ellen snoring her and only inviting her to her second-best teas, because she is married to a millionaire.

And the husband is throwing his wife's no-account brother, who is always borrowing money, in his teeth, and wondering why she never can make coffee that doesn't taste like dishwater, and laying the blame for little Tommy's accident on her playing bridge when she ought to be looking after her children.

When the husband slams the door behind him and starts for the office, and the wife wipes her eyes and turns to the telephone to order the groceries, the question of the new dress and the platinum blonde stenographer are still hanging on the line. All that has been accomplished is that both of the combatants are hurt and bleeding from a thousand wounds.

How easily all of this could be avoided if husbands and wives settled their differences by letter instead of by viva voce! Then calmly and without heat and anger, each would be able to state his or her case clearly and with arguments therefore, and the recipient of the note could consider it dispassionately, and the matter settled reasonably and intelligently. Instead of leaving left a bone of contention between two people who really never understand each other's thoughts and desires.

It's a pity, of course, that husbands and wives can't discuss subjects about which they disagree, without flying into rages, but ap-

Yet I can think of no other innovation that would fill such a long-felt want, and do so much to promote domestic harmony and stop divorce. Every thoughtful person interested in the preservation and protection of that sacred institution, the family, has long recognized that its greatest enemy was the daily spat between husbands and wives. But no one has known what to do about it since husbands and wives being human and of different sexes, and having been reared in different environments and with different traditions, are bound to have opinions, tastes and habits about which they are inevitably compelled to argue until they are blue in their faces.

parently they can't do it, and such being the case, it would save a lot of tears and regrets and peace-offerings if they would do it by letter instead of by word or mouth.

There is something calming in a sheet of paper that sobers up the angriest and makes them take a second thought before they write down the scolding things they do not hesitate to say. Besides your fountain pen is always empty and by the time you get it filled, you've decided that maybe Sally or Tom was right after all.

Nor are husbands and wives the only ones who could settle their differences better by writing than by talking. It's the only way to deal with adolescents. It's impossible to argue with the young generation without calling them fools and issuing ultimatums from which you have to back down.

But you can write them temperate letters explaining why the things they want to do and have are wrong or unwise, and they will heed your advice without feeling themselves aggrieved or persecuted. It has been said that the pen is mightier than the sword. It certainly is in the home. Try it.

My Neighbor Says—

Have you seen the new rubber bags to keep lettuce and celery moist and fresh when tucked away in your refrigerator? Fish or cheese may also be put away in these bags and will not then affect other foods in the refrigerator with their odors.

To brown pies and tarts, use a small pastry brush to apply milk lightly before putting them in the oven. To glaze pies, brush them with the white of an egg if you wish them to be a shiny brown.

When casters on furniture keep dropping out, pour a little paraffin into the hole, insert the caster and let the wax harden.

Preserved figs stuffed with cream cheese and arranged on pineapple slices placed on lettuce and topped with salad dressing makes a very good salad.

Save all lamb fat. It makes excellent shortening for gingerbread and cookies.

One-fourth teaspoon of vanilla added to each four cups of milk, improves the flavor of hot cocoa or chocolate.

Black Hawk and the Scout

One afternoon in 1812, an American scout walked through the woods near the Rock River in Illinois. He was trying to spy out the camping place of some enemy Indians.

Chief Black Hawk

The scout's name was Kilbourn, and he was famed for his woodcraft. As he came to an open place, he caught sight of an Indian leaning over a spring. Raising his rifle, he pulled the trigger, but the gun did not go off.

At the "click the warrior sprang to his feet, aiming the rifle at the white man, he was about to pull the trigger when he changed his mind. Instead of shooting, he walked toward the scout.

"Go that way," he ordered, keeping his weapon leveled.

Kilbourn obeyed, and walked ahead until he reached a camp. Six or eight warriors crowded around him, and learned the story of his capture. The white man looked closely at the man who had brought him to camp.

"That is Chief Black Hawk," he said to himself. Kilbourn expected to be put to death but Black Hawk said: "You shall not be killed! You shall be my son!"

In that way, the scout was adopted among the Indians. He wanted to escape, but for a long time saw no chance to do so. At the end of three years, however, he slipped away from his warrior friends, and made his way back to his own home.

Sixteen years later, the Black Hawk war broke out. Kilbourn was again a scout, and again he was captured. This time he was made prisoner during a battle. He was taken to the Indian camp and tied to a tree.

"If they remember me," he thought, "I am surely a dead man." Chief Black Hawk passed near him.

"Do you think that Black Hawk forgot?" asked the chief.

Now, indeed, the scout felt that the end was near. He waited. Black Hawk stepped to the tree, and with his own hands unbound the cords around Kilbourn's arms.

"Go," he said "Go back to your white chief. Tell him that Black Hawk meant no harm when he crossed the river to raise corn for his starving women and children. Tell him that my warriors held the white flag, and were shot down."

Thus was the surprised scout set free. In a later battle, Black Hawk and his men were defeated, but the Chief's kind deed has lived after him.

Desire to be First Is Problem in Lower Grades

BY ANGELO PATRI

The line was forming to go to classroom after recess. Miss Jennie was at the end showing the stragglers into place. There was a scuffle at the head of the line, a suppressed wail and a murmur of voices plainly in protest.

"What's the trouble?" asked Miss Jennie, hurrying up to the head of the line once more.

"He wants to be first. He can't be first all the time," said sturdy Benjamin, truculently. "Why should he always be first? I got here first. I've a right to be first 'cause I got here first."

Miss Jennie eyed him gravely, in silence, long enough to bring Benjamin to a sense of place and custom. Then she said very quietly, "Go to your place, Benjamin."

Benjamin, scowling but obedient, returned to his place, four places down the line. Miss Jennie took the hand of the little boy who was heading the line and started up the stairs. Then one saw that the little chap in first place was lame. He had to head the line or he would delay it, maybe cause an accident on the stairway. Benjamin took no account of lameness, or of winding stairs. He wanted to be first.

This is one of the problems that the teacher of the lower grades has to meet daily. Every ambitious child in the first grade, and they are all ambitious to lead, wants to be first. First on line, first to get a drink, first to read, first to speak. Every child wants to sit in the first row in the first seat. Why? It is human nature asserting itself in one of its strongest moods. "I must be first, the only one, the appointed one," is the cry of the human heart from birth to the end. We learn to cover it up some, as the years pass and we get a hint of the meaning of selfishness, but the children come to it fresh and keen, backed up by their parents.

Benjamin's mother called on Miss Jennie to see why her boy did not get his chance of being first on line. "Wan't it, first come first served?"

Miss Jennie looked at her in the child who is not first in the field.

Recommends Sponge for Shampooing

BY ELSIE PIERCE

Sponges are fast finding an important niche for themselves as beauty aids. We all know that the loofa adds to the luxury of a bath. Did you know that one of the most luxurious shampoo treatments employs a sponge instead of spray?

The accumulation on the scalp of dandruff is usually the cause of all hair ills. It hinders the free flow of blood to the hair bulbs, the source of all hair growth. The first step is to dissolve dandruff by a soothing, healing ointment, that acts directly on the scalp, in the pores, destroying the dandruff germ. This, plus its method of application stimulate the circulation in addition to dissolving dandruff.

Next come the cleansing, with a specially selected sponge and almond oil soap and quite hot water to which herbs are added. The lather-filled sponge works its way over every portion of the scalp and hair. After the hot herbal suds are washed thoroughly through every bit of hair, the hair is rinsed very carefully with the sponge, which is first itself rinsed through most carefully. A fresh, hot, herbal bath is used for the rinsing.

As the last step to the sponge shampoo treatment a dainty amount of the ointment is massaged into the scalp with cushion parts of the fingers. This is invaluable in the case of dry hair as it restores the natural oil and nourishes the scalp.

Cleanses and Promotes Growth

Let's see what the treatment does. It directs its effort to the scalp itself keeping it properly stimulated and free from dandruff and deposits so that the blood flows freely to the hair bulbs. It cleanses each hair shaft scientifically and protects the hair from dust, dirt, smoke and oil that gather in the crevices and on the outer covering of the hair. And the ointment lubricates and polishes every hair shaft; so that you cleanse, stimulate, lubricate and polish. Four fine enough steps for any treatment to accomplish.

Old Gardener Says:

In many sections it is necessary to lay down many varieties of blackberries and raspberries when cold weather comes. If this is not done the canes will be frozen and no fruit will be produced the following season. The task of laying down the canes is not difficult if carried out by two persons. First the canes should be pruned, a job which growers usually do in the fall anyway, although it is sometimes not laid down. Raspberry plants are easier to handle than blackberries, but it is well for one person to wear stout gloves. With the hands thus protected, the canes can be sent over until the ends touch the ground. Then the second person can throw a few shovelfuls of earth over them. It is not necessary that all the plant be covered. When blackberry plants are being laid down, it is usually necessary to loosen the ground on the opposite side with a garden fork.

Maybe he has not the talent required. Maybe he has other qualifications quite as fine as those that landed the other fellow first honors. In any case it is not wise to be too insistent upon a child's taking first place, even in the baby class. It would be well to question a little first and to ask, First in what?

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Bridge Players Can Rate Selves on Quiz Answers

Mr. Culbertson is conducting through this column a national examination of bridge players. Rate yourself by subtracting from 100 the points for each wrong answer. Or mail answers to Mr. Culbertson, care of this paper, and at the end of the exam he will send you a personal certificate with your mark and bridge classification. Inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BY ELY CULBERTSON

The third and fourth questions in the national self-rating bridge examination appeared yesterday. They were:

Question 3. Both sides vulnerable. Your partner (North) deals and bids one no trump. Second hand passes. You (South) hold:

♠ 6 3 ♥ K 4 2 ♦ K Q 10 9 5 2 ♣ 8 6.

What call you make?

Answer: The correct response is three no trump, a double raise. There is no sense in even mentioning the diamond suit. The combined hands should easily make nine tricks in no trump but probably would fall short of the eleven required at a minor suit contract. (One point demerit for a two no trump response. Two points demerit for other responses.)

Question 4. Both sides vulnerable. You (South) deal and bid one no trump on this hand:

♠ A 9 4 2 ♥ A 6 3 ♦ A Q 5 ♣ K 7 4.

West passes and North raises you to two no trump. East passes. What call do you make now?

Answer. You should pass. Your hand was an absolute minimum no trump and the fact that partner has raised does not give it additional values. (One point demerit for bidding three no trump; two points demerit for making any other call, except a pass.)

Today's Questions

Question 5. Both sides vulnerable. You are South, the dealer, and hold:

♠ A K J 5 ♥ A J 10 ♦ A Q 4 ♣ K 10 8.

What call do you make?

Question 6. Both sides vulnerable. You are North. Your partner

(South) dealt and bid one club. Next hand passed. You hold:

♠ 7 5 3 2 ♥ 6 4 3 ♦ K J 8 6 5 ♣ 7.

Today's Hand

♣ K 10 9 7

The bidding:

South West North East

1 heart Pass 2 hearts Pass

4 hearts Pass 4 hearts Pass

West opened the queen and jack of diamonds. Declarer ruffed the second, and drew trumps. He then led a low spade to the queen and, on the assumption that his best chance was to find East with the club ace, boldly led a club from dummy and, when East played low, put on the king. West smothered it with the ace, and led another diamond. Declarer still had to lose to West's club jack and East's club queen and, therefore, went down one.

Declarer had played directly against the percentages. He should have drawn the outstanding trumps, ending in dummy. Then, with his one thought left to avoid the loss of three club tricks, he should have led a club from dummy and finessed with the nine. Only if the ace, queen, and jack of clubs were over him in West's hand could this plan lose and in that event no line of play could succeed. With any one of the three honors in East's hand, successive finesses up to the X-10-9 would hold the loss to two club tricks.

The way to study this situation is to lay out the cards in the club suit alone, keeping the North-South hands as they are and rearranging the East-West clubs into all possible combinations.

Tomorrow's Hand

Both sides vulnerable.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

BY EMILY POST

WHEN TO SING AT A WEDDING

Dear Mrs. Post: The procedure of my daughter's wedding is all rather vague in my mind since I have not been to a wedding for many years. She would like to include a friend whom she wants to ask to sing some time during the marriage service. Will you tell us when this could be?

Answer: If the marriage service is read in two parts, the betrothal at the foot of the chancel and the plighting of the troth in front of the altar, an anthem or possibly a secular but beautiful selection of music is sung between these two parts. During the singing the bride and groom ascend the steps very slowly. This musical interlude must of course be very short.

Dear Mrs. Post: There are five hundred people to be invited to our wedding and reception, which is a great many guests for people in our circumstances to make preparations for. But rather than omit any one, I am willing to forego having some of the "trimmings" in the belief that my friends would like to be invited and are not going to criticize the limitation of our finances. However, it is in the matter of invitations that we are especially worried. Having them engraved is one expense we feel can be eliminated if every one in both families could help to write them. But from what you wrote in the column lately, I believe that the bride alone is supposed to write such notes of invitation. If this is true, then of course five hundred would be out of the question for me to manage. If, however, this is not a hard and fast rule, will you please suggest a note which you approve?

Answer: At first thought personal notes to as many as five hundred people doesn't sound very suitable, because the reason why a personally written note is so flattering is that it implies that none save immediate family and most intimate friends are invited. On second thoughts, however, there is no definite reason why you can not write to as many as you want to if they are all your own and Jim's friends. Even if you are having five hundred people, that would not be likely to mean more than two hundred notes, would it? For example: Dear Mrs. Neighbor, Jim and I are to be married on Saturday the 16th of October, and we want you and Mr. Neighbor and Marie and Johnny to come. Affectionately, Lucy McBride.

Dear Mrs. Post: We have received an invitation to a wedding reception addressed "and family." There are six of us in the immediate family, but only mother and dad and two of the children can go. How is such an invitation answered?

Answer: Since "and family" is not a conventional address, a reply to such an invitation having no rule but that of letting the Browns know how many Joneses are coming, an invitation of this sort was answered not long ago by one more clever than kind:

Four of the Jones family accept with pleasure, etc. Obviously however, the answer should be:

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Jones and Miss Mary Jones—etc. (Copyright, 1937)

Need Extra Clerk To Keep Track of Taxes in Italy

Small Businessman in America Comparatively
Free of Restrictions

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two articles on the lot of the small businessman in the major fascist countries.)

BY ANDRUE BERDING

Rome—(7)—Mr. Small Businessman in America may complain about the many restrictions and taxes on his business in the land of the free, but just let him come to Italy and hang out his shingle!

Here the government is the far-from-silent partner of every businessman. Its fingers are on every employee, on every ledger page, every invoice, in every till.

Government Everywhere

The government controls construction of new factories, strictly regulates and taxes the formation of corporations, and has its eye

HOW THEY WORK

Rome—(7)—Here are the social security taxes you pay as an Italian businessman:

Eight per cent of each employee's annual salary for insurance for accidents at work. But you pay his salary for the first three days of incapacity due to accident.

Twenty-six cents a week per employee for old age and invalidity insurance, but half comes out of the employee's salary.

Three per cent of the employee's annual salary for sickness insurance, but half you take from the employee. However, you pay salary during first three days of his illness.

Four per cent of the employee's actual salary for the "family check," of which you take one per cent from the employee. The family check is an additional allowance given by the state for employees with large families.

If you have women employees you pay a maternity and infancy tax.

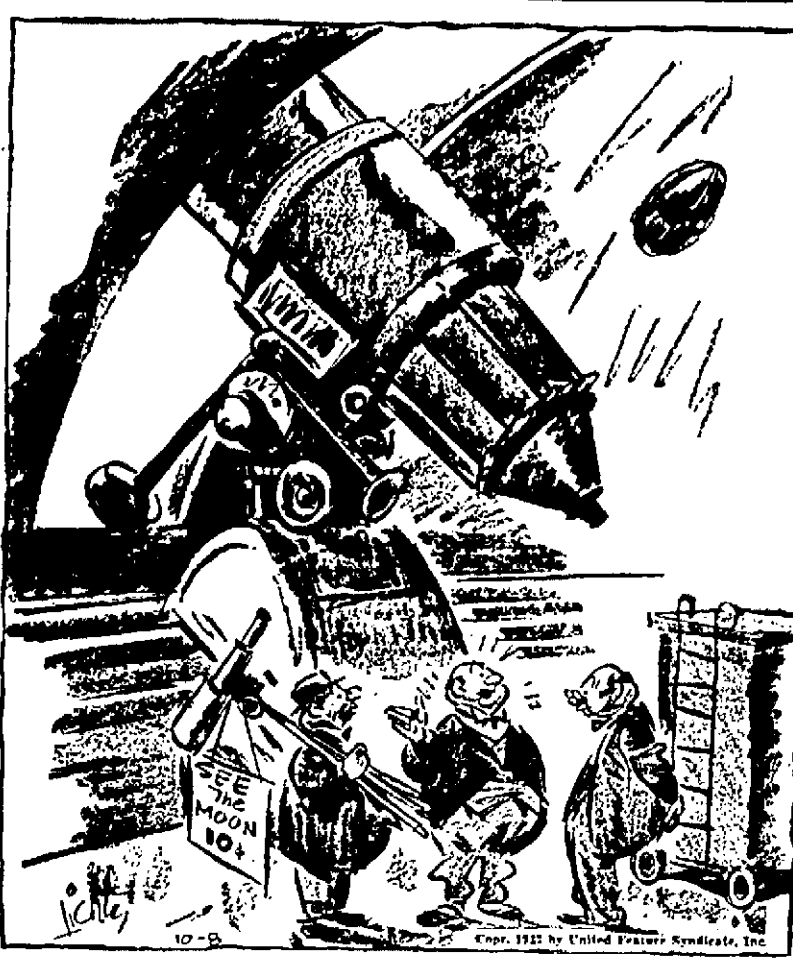

Social security taxes come to nearly twenty per cent of the payroll.

on every process of manufacture, transportation and sale.

A business employing 40 or more men has one clerk who does little else but keep books of government regulations, taxes, demands, etc.

Wails from Washington against increased taxation occasionally echo even as far as Rome, but Mr. U. S. A. Small Businessman, follow patiently while we put you into business over here. Say the wholesale dry goods business.

First, Three Licenses

First of all you get three licenses for your office, one from the governor of Rome, one from the prefect of the province and one from the police commissioner of Rome. Small fee, of course, for each.

With the governor you must make a deposit of $260 to guarantee your seriousness, etc. You must also exhibit a receipt from the tax office showing that you have registered your office there in advance for taxation purposes.

If you have a warehouse you must get two more licenses; if you have a garage, still two more.

Then you must be registered with the syndicate of merchants.

your employees with the syndicate of employees in commerce.

You cannot yet begin business unless it is proved that for every 10 employees you have one disabled veteran—Italy has been in four wars in the past 25 years—Turkish, World, Ethiopian, Spanish—and there is no specification as to what war he must be a veteran of.

Now For the Taxes

When business begins, taxes begin. You pay a 14 per cent tax on business profits. Then you pay a complementary tax ranging from one per cent to 10 per cent. This is figured not so much on the income you return as on your "tenor of life," that is, your mode of living. It is doubled if you are a bachelor.

Next you pay five per cent tax on your store rent.

Then you pay an annual tax on the sign outside your store. It comes to $1.80 a letter, so if your name is Duffelknechtsteinbaum it's just too bad.

Also there is the little matter of an annual tax of $7.60 per square yard on window signs.

If you discharge an employee, you have to give him 15 days' salary for each year he has been with you.

You must provide the police with a constantly up-to-date list of your employees.

If you have trucks they are out of service two days per year. On one day they are examined by the municipality, another day by the military authorities. They can be sequestered at a moment's notice in case of war.

Save Your Invoices

You pay a sales tax of 2 1/2 per cent on everything you buy from the manufacturer. Your retailer pays the same tax on what he buys from you, but his customer does not pay a sales tax, except in the form of higher prices.

You must keep all invoices five years, ready for inspection by the government at any time; all letters, telegrams, ledgers and other business documents for ten years.

If you have issued stock you may not pay more than six per cent dividend. If you make more than that you have to buy government bonds with it.

The prices you charge are closely scrutinized by your syndicate. Some of them are fixed. If you were in the food line practically all would be fixed. Periodically you must supply your syndicate with a list of all your prices.

Salaries Are Fixed

The salaries you pay are fixed. Luckily for you they are not high as American salaries go, $40, $45, $50 a month.

Once a year the Fascist party representative comes to you and says: "You seem to be doing well. We have assessed you for the national charities 1,000, 2,000, 50,000—or whatever it may be—live."

You say nothing but jot down the figure, then go to the party headquarters and argue that business ain't what she used to be. A friend in your line was assessed last year 1,000 lire—$52. He got by with 200.

If you import goods you get involved in a whole labyrinth of restrictions. But that's another story. And now comes the funny part of it. You'd think, with all the above, that there wouldn't be a store of small business in Rome, but there are thousands. And the small businessmen don't seem to be dying of hunger or cutting their throats. They actually appear to be fat and happy. Maybe it's the Italian sunshine—or perhaps they've passed it all on to fellows like the writer who buy from them.

(Mrs. Salim L. Lewis)

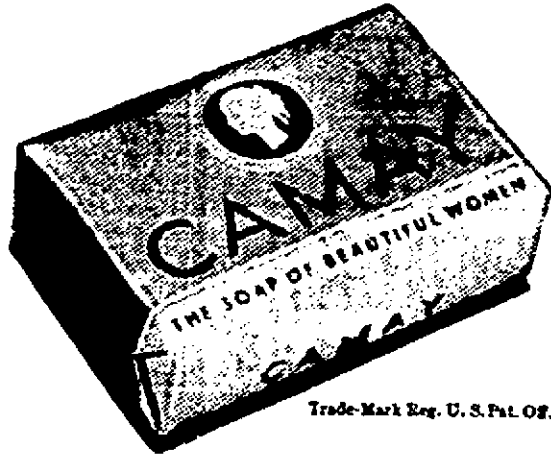

September 2, 1937

WHEN the music starts to play and the dancing begins—you'll always notice men gather around the girl with the loveliest skin! "It happens at club dances time after time," says charming Mrs. Lewis. "And I always wonder why every girl doesn't have a lovely skin! It's so easy if you use Camay!"

A charming young bride with an active social life needs a beauty care that's effective, but that's simple, too. "I have no worries when I use Camay!" Mrs. Lewis tells you. "There's no worry about time, no worry about results. Camay always keeps skin smooth."

If you've had any worries about your beauty care, perhaps you don't know this: No soap has the same rich lather Camay has. In every cake are millions of tiny bubbles that were made to get skin clean. Camay removes grime and dirt from deep in the pores.

Outdoor Recreation Is Help in Prevention of Crime, Institute Told

THE IMPORTANCE OF PLAY and outdoor recreation in the prevention of crime was stressed by R. J. Batchelor, district representative of the National Recreation association, in his talk at the World Fellowship Institute sponsored by Interdenominational Women's Federation of Appleton Thursday at First Baptist church.

"There is no problem facing the world today of more importance than training for the right use of leisure," Mr. Batchelor said, pointing out that new inventions have created machinery which takes the place of manpower, leaving more leisure for everyone. The dangerous thing about this increased leisure time, he added, is that it has taken away the little chores which used to keep boys and girls busy and out of mischief and danger. Today, he said, with houses being built on small plots of ground, the youngsters must resort to the streets for their games.

Quoting, "it is more important to live a life than to make a living," Mr. Batchelor said that it is because people have not recognized the importance of living a life that crime waves develop. Fifteen billions of dollars are spent every year for the arrest and conviction of criminals, he pointed out, adding that $100 per boy is spent for recreation each year, but $2000 is the down payment per boy for crime.

Mr. Batchelor reviewed the criminal record of one boy as follows: It cost taxpayers $32,300 to prosecute and convict him for his many crimes, not including the amount lost through his various robberies or the number of lives lost.

In conclusion he quoted Herbert Hoover who said "Our stage of civilization is not going to depend upon what we do in our work but what we do in our time off."

Urges New Interests
He urged that people take a new interest in music, drama, games, art and hobbies, stating that we must train so that living a life will be a glorious experience.

"Alcohol in Relation to Highway Accidents" was the subject of a talk given by Charles Vette, Neenah attorney and representative of the association. More people were killed by automobiles in 1936 than there were American soldiers killed in the World war, he said. In a survey of 119 consecutive automobile accidents, he said, it was found that 62 percent of the drivers had sufficient alcohol in their systems to affect their driving. A check at one hospital revealed that one-third of the persons admitted as the result of accidents were definitely drunk, the speaker added, and another third had been drinking.

Mr. Vette urged that church people educate themselves to the facts about alcohol and its relation to accidents as well as to health and home.

Expressing the belief that it is in the "great open spaces" that a nation can grow a soul, Miss Esther McRuer, associate secretary of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian church in the United States, urged the women at the fellowship institute to take time to think of the Christian cause in rural America.

Must Help Youth
"The problems of city youth are also the problems of rural youth," Miss McRuer stated, and it is the church that must help the rural youth to be fit citizens of tomorrow. There is a change in the pattern of rural life, she went on, and it is up to the church to see that it is a Christian pattern.

Miss McRuer stressed the necessity for lay leadership in rural communities, pointing out that everything cannot be left to the ministers. The church, she said, must help the people in the rural areas keep the kindness that comes from conflict with the earth.

The religion of Jesus Christ is lifting the Moslems physically as well as spiritually, Mrs. Garrett De Jong, missionary on furlough from Kuwait, Arabia, who gave the principal address in the afternoon. Dressed in the costume of a Mohammedan woman, Mrs. De Jong opened her program by giving the Mohammedan call to prayer in both Arabic and English.

Talks On Moslem Life
The speaker discussed Moslem life from the woman's standpoint, pointing out that no country rises higher than its women. The Arab lives in a "blind house" not physically, but also mentally, morally and spiritually, she went on. She told how the doors of the houses are always closed, and no one, not even the husband, enters without knocking. The Arabs seal up the door of a house where death has entered and make a new door so the angel of death will not find his way in a second time, she added.

The people of Arabia have no knowledge of sanitation, a conception of comfort or the term theory of disease. If they are ill they believe it is the will of Allah, Mrs. De Jong explained. The Moslems, she said, are superstitious, an example being their belief in the evil eye.

It is true that a great many Moslems are better than their religion, said Mrs. De Jong, a statement which cannot be made about Christians. However, she went on, a Moslem will put his religion in one compartment of his life and his conduct in another, feeling that if he obeys the set rules of his religion he can do anything else he wants to, just as he does not break any of the rules.

Discusses Customs
The speaker discussed the marriage customs of the Moslems, pointing out that marriages are arranged by the fathers of the two people, a difference in age being disregarded. A Moslem may have four legal wives at the same time.

Reelect Green Bay Woman Mission Federation Head

MRS. L. F. GAST, Green Bay, who has been president of the Wisconsin district Women's Missionary federation of the American Lutheran church since it was organized in 1933, was returned to office for another term of two years at the closing sessions of the 1-day convention held Thursday at First English Lutheran church.

All officers were reelected with the exception of Mrs. Floyd Foor, Appleton, who resigned as missionary education chairman. She is succeeded by Mrs. David Rath, Prairie du Sac.

The other officers include Mrs. J. M. Woerth, Menominee, vice president; Mrs. T. Bucholz, Oshkosh, secretary; Mrs. Walter Koerner, Appleton, treasurer; Mrs. C. Lemko, Wausau, thankoffering chairman; Mrs. H. Cronrath, Oshkosh, Indian lace chairman; Mrs. G. Mueckling, Arcadia, life membership and memorials chairman; and Mrs. W. Ziemer, Milwaukee, junior work chairman.

The next convention will be in 1939 but the place was not chosen.

Meyer Is Speaker

The principal address of the day was given by the Rev. Hans Meyer, Milwaukee, who discussed "Home Missions." He spoke of the necessity for home mission work, stating that Christ commanded it and the world needs it, and that it has the promise of God that the work will not be in vain. Every Christian hungering for souls and zealous for the work, and every Christian who believes in eternal judgment should do mission work, he added.

Pastor Meyer stressed the work among children who belong to no church or who are receiving no Christian training, stating that there are 20,000,000 such children marching into prisons and other public institutions as a result. He added that there are 40,000,000 adults who do not belong to any church.

The work of the foreign missions was brought to the attention of the women by the Rev. R. R. Hanselmann, Oconomowoc, returned missionary from New Guinea, who discussed the work in that field. He told of the difficult beginning of mission work in New Guinea and stressed the need for constant prayer.

Discusses Work

Miss Mabel Thorstensen, Milwaukee, explained how the Lutheran Welfare society, with headquarters at Milwaukee, was organized. She said that six Lutheran synods are cooperating in the welfare work which consists of the placement of children, both illegitimate and orphaned, in Christian homes.

A highlight of the program was the address given by Miss Katherine Lehman, Columbus, Ohio, national president of the organization, who gave a complete report of the activities of the federation for 1937.

Devotions were held at the beginning of both morning and afternoon sessions by Sister Nancy Schoen, deaconess from the motherhouse at Milwaukee, and the opening service was held by the Rev. F. C. Reuter, pastor of the host church. Mrs. C. H. Huesemann, Sr., greeting the delegates and visitors to the convention and the response was given by Mrs. E. Bornfleth, Milwaukee. Mrs. Walter Koerner, Appleton, sang a solo, "Thy Kingdom Come," and Mrs. Elsie Foor, Appleton, played the preludes.

About 425 persons from all parts of the state attended the day convention here yesterday, that number including 33 pastors of churches in the Wisconsin district. The offering taken will be divided among the Lutheran Welfare society, home and foreign missions.

Motion Pictures Of Minnesota Will Be Shown at Church

R. L. Swanson, instructor at Wilson Junior High school, will show colored motion pictures which he took in northern Minnesota last summer at 8 o'clock next Friday evening, Oct. 15, at Memorial Presbyterian church under the auspices of Mrs. Paul Cary's circle of the Presbyterian Guild. The movies including scenes of trout fishing and canoeing, and show the actual catching of fish, detail of a canoe trip and camp life, and present views of natural scenery and wild life.

Rosebush Is Named Head Of DeMolay

JOHN ROSEBUSH was reelected master counselor of John F. Rose chapter, Order of DeMolay, at a meeting of the chapter last night at Masonic temple. Albert Wickesberg was chosen senior counselor, Douglas White, junior counselor, and Frank Hammer, Jr., scribe.

Appointments made by the chapter advisors include Harwood Orbinson as efficiency director and Douglas White as chapter correspondent to the Badger DeMolay. New officers were installed by Harold Woehler, Frank Hammer, Sr., and Robert De Long.

"The Marks of a Man's Education" was the title of an address given by Dr. Thomas S. Kepler, professor of Bible and religion at Lawrence college, at the Education day program at the meeting last night.

Plans were made for the first dance of the season to be held Oct. 22 with John Rosebush as chairman and Frank Hammer, Jr., and James Smith as assistants. Hammer discussed the state convocation to be held Nov. 5 and 6 at Racine.

MISSIONARY FEDERATION ELECTS OFFICERS

With one exception, all officers of the Wisconsin district Women's Missionary federation of the American Lutheran church which held its biennial convention at First English Lutheran church yesterday were reelected. They are shown above, left to right, front row, Mrs. C. E. Lemke, Wausau, thankoffering chairman; Mrs. L. F. Gast, Green Bay, Wisconsin district president; Miss Katherine Lehman, Columbus, Ohio, president of the national federation who spoke at the meeting in Appleton; Mrs. G. F. Mueckling, Arcadia, life membership chairman; back row, Mrs. W. R. Ziemer, Milwaukee, junior work chairman; Mrs. Theodore Buchholz, Oshkosh, secretary; Mrs. J. M. Woerth, Menominee, Wis., vice president; Mrs. Walter Koerner, Appleton, treasurer; and Mrs. H. Cronrath, Oshkosh, Indian lace chairman. Mrs. David Rath, Prairie du Sac, who was elected missionary education chairman in place of Mrs. Floyd Foor, Appleton, is not shown on the picture. (Post-Crescent Photo)

FOUND! A WAY TO MAKE A "NO-SCRUB" SOAP REALLY SAFE!

Now expect new things! For here is a new-type laundry soap that soaks out dirt in 15 minutes... washes white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter... yet is completely safe for all washable colors and hands!

Oxydol was developed by the makers of gentle Ivory soap at a cost of over $1,000,000! It is the result of a patented process to make soap far faster acting... an amazing new formula that makes mild, gentle soap (up to three times whiter washing, but "keep it safe.") Thus, Oxydol combines speed and safety in a way no single soap has ever done before. And does these four amazing things:

(1) Soaks out dirt in 15 minutes--no scrubbing--no boiling. Even "grimiest" spots come snowy with a few quick rubs between the fingers. (2) Gets white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter--as proved by scientific tintometer tests. (3) Cuts washing time 25% to 40%, in tub or machine. (4) Yet so safe that even sheer cotton prints washed 100 consecutive times in Oxydol suds, show no perceptible sign of fading.

So no wonder women all over America are discarding former favorites and adopting this new wonder-soap--to save time and drudgery on washdays, to protect clothes and hands. Oxydol is extremely economical, too. Tests show that it will go 1/2 to 1 1/2 again as far as even the latest soap flakes on the market. And tests further prove that, cup for cup, Oxydol gives 28% to 60% more suds than the 3 other best known granulated soaps on the market. Get Oxydol from your dealer today.

Laymen's Fellowship Head Will Conduct Conference At Congregational Church

DONALD A. ADAMS, New Haven, Conn., past president of Rotary International and former president of the New Haven Chamber of Commerce, who is also chairman of the laymen's fellowship of the Congregational and Christian Churches in the United States, will conduct the laymen's meeting for about 30 Congregational churches of this area next Tuesday afternoon at First Congregational church.

The laymen's meeting will begin about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, following the conference for ministers of the area who will be led by Dr. Hugh Vernon White, secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

Mr. Adams brings to the field of religious work the experience of a successful business man. He is a director in several companies and has served as chairman for his city. In International Rotarian activities besides being president in 1925 and 1926 he has been vice president and has served as chairman of the elections committee, resolutions committee, aims and objects committee and others.

A native of Wisconsin, he was born in Windsor, Wis., where his father, a Congregational minister for 56 years, was pastor. Previously his father had been a home missionary in South Dakota and Nebraska. His grandfather also was a minister.

Mr. Adams was educated at Carlton college, Minnesota, and Yale law school, finishing at Yale in 1908. After practicing law in New York city, he returned to New Haven in 1911 and engaged in the insurance business. When a course in business administration was established at Yale university in 1915 he was appointed the first instructor in business law and has continued his teaching along with his insurance and other business affairs.

While practicing law in New York, he was elected a youthful deacon of the Flatbush Congregational church, Brooklyn, the fourth largest church of the denomination in the country. He is now president of the ecclesiastical society of the historic Center church, New Haven, founded 1639 at the time of the first settlement and located "on the green" at Yale.

TO LEAD MEETING

When laymen from Congregational churches in Appleton and the surrounding area gather in Appleton next Tuesday afternoon and evening at First Congregational church, Donald A. Adams, above, New Haven, Conn., will lead the meeting. Mr. Adams, chairman of the laymen's fellowship of the Congregational and Christian Churches in the United States, is a past president of Rotary International.

Hollywood News And Gossip

BY ROBIN COONS

Hollywood — Mrs. Paul Muni is the guiding light in the Muni career in a very practical sense. Unobtrusively, she observes his work on the sets, sits in on story conferences, and especially on his contract-signing.

This began some years ago—I believe the story has never been told—when Paul came home one evening, enthusiastic after several disheartening experiences at his studio. He had made a couple of starring talks for the old Fox company, the second of which was probably the worst film of his career, "Seven Faces." This evening, however, he felt cheered.

Unsigning The Papers

He had signed for a picture again. He was to play in "Liliom."

"What role?" asked Mrs. Muni. "Second lead to Charles Farrell," said Paul.

"No," said Mrs. Muni, with finality. "Second lead to a woman star, yes—but to a man, no."

"But I've signed the papers," protested Paul.

"We'll have to unsign them," she said.

And they did. And Paul Muni went back to the stage, and came back for "Scarface" and the seemingly permanent place he has made in pictures as the screen's leading character star—with Mrs. Muni supervising his taking of pen in hand.

Ra Hould, the Australian lad who has been compared to Freddie Bartholomew in all his pictures, is on the Metro contract list now that Freddie's fighting. Ra's new name is Ronald Sinclair.

The Unseen Star

Exactly what is a "Lubitsch touch?" From "Angel," some examples; the conversation between Herbert Marshall and Melvyn Douglas revealing subtly that in the war they had something in common, namely close acquaintance with a certain French girl; the sly digs at European diplomacy, especially as reflected in the conversation between Ernest Cossart and Edward Everett Horton; the picturing of a ticklish luncheon scene of the principals in the triangle—Dietrich, Marshall, Douglas—entirely through the kitchen reactions and conversation of the servants; the racetrack arrival of Cossart, the butler, and his bride, during which he points out, with elaborate importance, the friends he has among those who serve the famous and well-bred; the general tongue-in-cheek approach to the pretensions, the foibles, and the elegances of the species.

"Angel," after what seemed to me a slow start, picked up considerably and became an engrossing version of the old three-cornered love story. Marshall got the preview audience hand, but Douglas was liked equally, and as for Marlay-nah—I thought she was less languid, more intelligent, and less prone to flutter her lashes aimlessly than in the days of her von Sternberg puppetry.

As in every Lubitsch film, however, the real star is unseen. That is Lubitsch, with his "touches."

Hugh Herbert has natural sulphur springs on his new 200-acre place in the valley. Has an offer to bottle and sell it as "woo-woo water."

Waupaca District Scouters in First Monthly Meeting

Waupaca—The first of the monthly business meetings of scouters in the Waupaca district was held at the Modern restaurant Tuesday evening at 6:30. Those present were Dr. A. M. Christofferson, S. W. Johnson, Ted Christoph, Olaf Skye, Roy Holly, Sr., Rob Holly, Jr., R. E. High, Barney Pommer, Reuben Nelson, Reuben Danielson and Albert Holly.

Plans for the annual banquet of the Twin Lakes Council were discussed and given up, there being no satisfactory place to hold such a gathering. It is expected that either Princeton or Berlin will act as hosts to the council.

S. W. Johnson, financial secretary, will act as chairman of the annual drive for funds for the support of the area council. He will be assisted by Reuben Danielson and Barney Pommer. Only $375.72 is needed, or 12 cents per capita according to the population of this city. The drive will open Oct. 25.

Roy Holly, Sr., and Rob Holly, Jr., will spend Saturday and Sunday in Fond du Lac where a conference of five Boy Scout councils is to be held at Grafton hall.

Workers Classes To Start Monday In Council Room

Parliamentary Procedure, Cooperatives Will Be Studied

Courses in parliamentary procedure and cooperative economics have been selected as the subjects to be studied in evening classes in Appleton conducted by the newly created school for workers in industry, a division of the University of Wisconsin.

The classes, which will meet at 7:30 in the council chambers of the city hall, will start next week and continue for 10 weeks. The course in parliamentary procedure and public speaking will meet on Monday nights and the one in economics on Friday nights.

Walter H. Uphoff of Madison, who holds a master's degree in sociology from the University of Wisconsin and has written a book entitled "The Kohler Strike," will be the instructor. For the last two years he has taught similar classes in the vicinity of Madison.

Although of special interest to workers, the classes are open to the public. A small fee for outlines and pamphlets used in study will be levied by the local education committee.

There will be three class terms for the year. The second will run from Jan. 3 to March 11 and the spring term from March 14 to May 20.

'Y' Drive Brings 185 New Members

Day's Total Highest of Campaign; Ace Ranch Leads Divisions

A total of 185 new members, the greatest number signed in one day since the Y. M. C. A. drive opened this week, were added to the roster yesterday. Homer Gebhardt, general secretary, reported this morning.

Of this number, the Ace ranch, brought in 63 members, 35 of them signed by Fred Buss and Phil Ottman. The Ace ranch is also leading all other divisions in total points.

At the half-way mark, the Y. M. C. A. campaign leaders and workers have brought in 483 new members and $7,045.60. The drive opened Monday and will close next Monday.

At last night's general meeting in the "Y" building, G. E. Buchanan and the Rev. Horace Parsons of the Bar ranch and Lillian Certe of the women's division were awarded 10-gallon hats for outstanding work during the day.

A trio of girls singing western songs entertained at last night's roundup meeting. The trio was composed of Lillas, Lillian, and Marilyn Steffen of Appleton. Tomorrow night's meeting will be the last before the wind-up session Monday night.

Injured Youth Still In Critical Condition

The condition of Elmer Schwobe, 16, Hilbert, who was injured in a train and auto crash at Fond du Lac Tuesday was still critical, according to a report at the St. Agnes Hospital where he is confined. Two persons were killed in the accident in which Schwobe was injured.

Albert Kuster, 42, Hilbert, who also was hurt when his truck and a passenger train collided near Chilton Monday, was in an improved condition today. It was reported at the St. Agnes hospital where he is confined. His condition is no longer critical.

Two Persons Injured When Autos Collide

Two persons are confined to St. Elizabeth hospital today suffering from shock, cuts and bruises as a result of a traffic accident about 2:30 yesterday afternoon at the junction of Highways 10 and 45 at Leppla's corner.

The injured are Alfred Giesen, 65, and his wife, 60. St. Paul, Minn., who were riding in a car driven by Adolph Giesen, St. Paul, when the machine was involved in a collision with an automobile driven by P. C. Cooper, Milwaukee. Giesen was going west on Highway 10 and Cooper north on Highway 45 when the crash occurred.

Education Heads Map Plans for Convention

The program for the Northeastern Wisconsin Education association convention in Appleton April 8, was considered at an executive committee meeting last night at the Hotel Northern.

It is expected that two nationally known speakers will be secured for the afternoon and evening programs. A high type of entertainment is being planned and efforts will be made to have the program educational as well as entertaining.

Sectional chairmen were appointed at last night's meet and names will be announced when they meet with the executive committee at Appleton Dec. 4.

Latin Club Committee To Plan Social Meeting

Plans for the next social meeting of the Appleton High school Latin club will be discussed at a meeting of the committee in charge tonight at the school. Members of the committee are Ellen Mary, Mac Boettcher, Evelyn Mamed and Catherine Roemer. The meeting was called by Jeanne Fote, president.

Motorist Is Freed of Drunken Driving Charge

Waupaca — Clarence Schoenicke, town of Larabee, Waupaca county, charged with drunken driving on Sept. 30, was found not guilty in court of Justice of the Peace William Besserdich, Clintonville, yesterday. Schoenicke had been arrested by Waupaca county police Thursday, Sept. 30, and had pleaded not guilty.

DEATHS

OTTO KRUGER

Otto Kruger, 76, Wauwatosa, died at 7 o'clock last night at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Josephine Zeh, route 2, Appleton.

Born at St. Louis, Mo., he was married to Elizabeth Closs in 1883 at Appleton. He lived at Milwaukee and LaCrosse before moving to Wauwatosa.

Survivors are the widow; one son, John, LaCrosse; five sisters, Mrs. Arthur Reed, St. Paul; Mrs. Henry Dankwardt, Lake City, Minn.; Mrs. Minnie Plotner, Bass Lake, Ind.; Mrs. John Lund, North Judson, Ind.; Mrs. Harry Taylor, Milwaukee.

Funeral services will be held at LaCrosse Monday afternoon. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery there. The body will be at the Wichmann Funeral home from this afternoon until Saturday morning when it will be removed to LaCrosse.

LOEVY FUNERAL

The funeral of Mrs. Joseph Loevy, 74, 526 W. Eighth street, was held at 8:30 yesterday morning at the Schommer Funeral home and at 9 o'clock at the St. Joseph's church with the Rev. Father Eugene in charge. The Rev. Father Adelbert was in charge of burial services at the parish cemetery. Services were held by the Third Order of St. Francis and the Christian Mothers society of the church.

Bearers were Matt Schuh, Charles Hopfensperger, Joseph Doerfler, Antoni Sunkle, August Laabs and Charles Wettengel.

Attend State Meeting Of Traffic Officers

William Glasheen and Charles Stadel, Outagamie county motorcycle officers, attended the fall meeting of the Wisconsin Highway Traffic Officers association at Stevens Point yesterday. Glasheen is president of the association. By-laws of the organization were adopted at the meeting. The next session of the association will be held in May 1938.

Personal

Miss Colleen Guin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Guin, 310 Depot street, Kaukauna, returned Thursday night to her home from St. Elizabeth Hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Miss Laura Zwern, 614 N. Division street, is in St. Elizabeth hospital recovering from an operation performed Wednesday.

Births

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Downer, Pittsburgh, Pa. Oct. 1, according to word received here by friends. They are former Appleton residents.

Claussen Scores Earnings Surtax On Corporations

Charges Federal Levy Is Blocking Business Progress

Pittsburgh —(AP)—Fred H. Claussen, president of the Van Buren Manufacturing company of Horicon, Wis., declared today the federal surtax on undistributed earnings of corporations is blocking the business progress.

In an address to the National Coal association, which represents companies producing 70 per cent of the nation's annual output of 450,000,000 tons of soft coal, Claussen asserted:

"The enactment of the (graduated tax) law . . . constitutes such encroachments on the private industry and such a departure from the recognized land marks of the American economic system that it is now difficult to measure the effects . . . (but) it means more to every citizen and enterprise in the country than can now be computed by the temporary extra revenue that may result."

Urges Immediate Repeal

Claussen urged immediate repeal of the tax, which places assessments ranging from 7 to 27 per cent on undistributed profits, because he said:

(1) It favors the long established corporations with accumulated cash and imposes hardships on the younger organization attempting to establish reserves.

(2) The treasury has construed the relief provisions of the law in favor of the government wherever possible.

(3) The law of most states forbid the payment of dividends by corporations whose capital is impaired . . . and companies in this situation are "penalized" by the states if they pay dividends and "punish" by the federal government if they do not.

(4) The tax is "peculiarly obnoxious" form of retroactive legislation for corporations with debts acquired before the tax was established.

Company, Workers Agree on Contract

Coated Paper Recognizes Association as Bargaining Agency

The Appleton Coated Paper Company Employees' association and the company this week entered into a written contract by which the company recognizes the association as the sole bargaining agency for its members.

Terms regarding minimum wages, increases in wages, hours, overtime, holidays, vacations with pay, and seniority pay are contained in the agreement.

The contract was signed by officers of the Appleton Coated Paper company and the association. Present officers of the association are Alvin B. Thies, president; Verona Hietpas, vice president; Melvin E. Manier, secretary; Alfred A. Gauerke, treasurer.

The association was formed in May of this year.

It Is Said--

That the experience of Kirt Wolter, Appleton, gained at the Boat club, is standing him in good stead as a plebe in the United States Naval academy, Annapolis, Md. In a letter to Judge Fred V. Heinemann, he states that the plebes must row cutters which are heavy. His scouting in Appleton also has been an aid to him in infantry drills, he writes.

That although there is little heavy betting in these parts on either the Giants or Yanks, quarter, dime and nickel pools on the total game score each day are flourishing. Numbers are drawn from 0 to 9 and the pool money goes to the holder of the number which tallies with the score. There are a number of other pools on the total series score.

Wenzel Company Given Repair Job Contract

Consider Next Move for Peace

power conference in Washington met a mixed reception, although there was no official comment.

Some observers said the administration would not favor holding the parley here because of the undesired emphasis it might give to American participation in a general peace effort. Others, however, said the suggestion might be well received because Washington is both the birthplace and the depository of the treaty, adopted 15 years ago.

It was signed by the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Portugal, Japan and China.

Secret Talks

This and other preliminary details of the conference, including a decision as to whether five additional advisers will be invited, were being worked out in strict secrecy through diplomatic conversations between Washington, London, Paris and capitals of the other powers involved.

Bulking large in these conferences is the question of a specific program.

The nine-power treaty provides no machinery for inflicting penalties on its violators. Thus, the group eventually must decide whether it shall embark on a definite course of action designed to call Japan to account or merely enunciate a statement of policy with possible recommendations to the League of Nations.

Speculation in some quarters that the conference might be asked to declare an economic boycott against Japan brought no official indication that the United States would be prepared to consent to any such extreme action. On the other hand, there was no specific sign that it would not.

Taking of Testimony Ended in Court Case

Closing arguments in the municipal court case in which Anton Kone, 1929 W. Lawrence street, seeks $474.54 from Charles Rolf, town of Greenville, were heard by the jury this morning. The case was adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon by Judge Thomas H. Ryan at which time the case was expected to go to the jury. Kone claims the amount is due him for well drilling work at the Rolf farm.

Summary of Bills Up for Enactment At Special Session of Legislature

Madison —(AP)—Abstracts of bills introduced in the legislature yesterday follow:

Agricultural Authority

Sets up non-stock, non-profit corporation to work for improvement in quality of Wisconsin agricultural products and expansion of markets. Authority would conduct technical studies, promote advertising, and assist cooperative or municipal organizations founded for similar purposes. It would report once a year to the governor. Operations financed by an immediate appropriation of $50,000 and another of $100,000 on July 1, 1938.

Department of Commerce

An advisory council of from 12 to 25 members, appointed by the governor for four year terms, to supervise program designed to help business, industry and commerce through expansion of markets, operation of an information bureau, and inducements for development of new industries. A director at a salary of not more than $7,000 a year. All subordinate employees under civil service. An immediate allotment of $25,000 and $50,000 on July 1, 1938, from general fund.

Trade Practice Codes

Revive indefinitely the trade practice law that expired July 25, with the costs of the administration to be assessed on groups asking codes. Designed to prevent and eliminate unfair competition. Governor to appoint supervisory board of five members, with senate confirmation, for six-year terms. Board to select a commissioner, exempt from civil service. All other employees under civil service. Commissioner to receive not more than $7,000 a year. An appropriation of $10,000 immediately and again on July 1, 1938, to finance administration.

Chain Store Tax

A permanent assessment ranging from $50 on the first five sales outlets to $300 on each in excess of 25. Comparative rates in law that expired July 1 ranged from $25 to $250. Annual estimated tax income $300,000. Penalty of $25 to $100 on each outlet for each day of illegal operation.

Mortgage Mortuarium

Extends grace period on mortgaged farms and homes from March 1, 1938, to March 1, 1939, provided places were mortgaged before July 1, 1935.

Old Age Assistance

Authorizes probate court to determine whether widows and minor children should be given prior consideration in state pension lien cases. Strikes out interest payment on lien claims.

Housing Act

Authorizes city councils to establish low cost housing facilities under supervision of a 5-man board appointed by the mayor. Housing authority must be non-profit, may issue bonds and mortgages and operate projects by purchase or lease. Only persons whose annual income is not more than five times the annual rental are eligible tenants.

Game Law Pamphlets to Be Sent Out Next Week

Copies of game and trapping laws are being printed in booklet form by the Wisconsin Conservation department, and John E. Hantschel, Outagamie county clerk, received one of the first copies yesterday. The county's allotment will be shipped here next week and the booklets will be distributed among the agents selling hunting licenses. will be distributed to take care of hunters who already have secured their licenses.

Hothouse Tomatoes And Cucumbers are Available Here

Home-Grown Cantaloupes Almost Gone, Market Survey Shows

Hothouse cucumbers and tomatoes, the former selling at two for 15 cents or 20 cents apiece, depending on size, and the latter at two pounds for 25 cents, are now on Appleton markets.

Prices quoted here may vary in different stores, but approximate the average. Grapefruit are priced at two for 15 cents. The supply of home-grown cantaloupes is almost depleted.

Peaches bring from $1.25 to $1.35 a crate, plums $1.25, and Italian prunes $1.15 or 98 cents for one-half bushel. Jonathan apples are selling for $1.49. Wealthies from 98 cents to $1.25, and Macintosh at $1.49 per bushel.

Large Idaho potatoes cost 39 cents a peck and Antigo "spuds" 25 cents a peck. New large yellow lemons are 12 cents for three or 45 cents a dozen.

White seedless grapes and red Tokay grapes are selling at two pounds for 19 cents.

Other prices follow: lettuce, 10 cents a head; onions, three pounds for 10-cents, 10-pound sack for 25 cents; carrots, parsnips, turnips three pounds for 14 cents; cabbage rutabaga, three pounds for 10 cents; celery hearts at 10 cents a bunch, stalks two bunches for 15 cents; radishes, three bunches for 10 cents; cauliflower, 14, 19, and 25 cents a head; peas, 15 cents a pound; beans, two pounds for 25 cents.

New Regulations Issued to Prevent Spread of Disease

Commissioners Point Out Features of Late Rules

New regulations designed to prevent the spread of Bang's disease and other livestock diseases in Wisconsin have been received by R. C. Swanson, Outagamie county agricultural agent, from the commissioners of the state department of agriculture and markets.

The regulations were drawn up and adopted because the control of Bang's disease has progressed to the point where it is necessary to protect herds which were originally found to be free of the disease and those which have been freed because of the Bang's program, the commissioners stated. Cattle and livestock owners throughout the state have insisted on this protection, they said.

Failure to afford such protection would mean that the large investment already made for the control of Bang's disease would be nullified to a considerable extent, it was further explained.

Must Be Tested

1. The movement of cattle between herds is prohibited unless such cattle have qualified by passing the Bang's test.

2. Since unauthorized testing would permit the identification of diseased animals and their secret disposal, it was necessary to provide that bleeding and testing for Bang's disease can only be done by properly qualified veterinarians.

3. Since diseases were spread by means of trucks hauling diseased livestock be cleaned and disinfested prior to being used again for hauling livestock.

4. Considerable abuse existed in the selling of cattle known to be infested with Bang's disease. This made it necessary to provide that all Bang's reactors had to be identified by a special reactor tag and quarantined on the farm where they were found to be reactors.

5. Area testing has commenced in Portage county and in compliance with the provisions of the Bang area test law the department has created a regulation to restrict the movement of cattle into an area test county or among herds within such county unless they have been tested and found to be free from Bang's disease.

Dried sea horses are a common article of commerce in San Francisco's Chinatown.

253 Square Feet of Park Space for Each Person in Appleton

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington—If everybody in Appleton decided to spend the day in the park at exactly the same time, each person would have 253 square feet of park all to himself.

That is, of course, if everybody didn't want to be in the same place in the same park, and each person took the patch of ground allotted.

According to a study just released by the National Park service, Appleton has eleven parks totalling 147 acres and according to the 1930 census there are 25,267 inhabitants—which figures up to 172 persons per acre.

This seems like a lot of territory—but as a matter of fact, Appleton ranks thirtieth among the forty-two Wisconsin cities studied in the amount of park space per inhabitant. Appleton inhabitants stand a much better chance of finding a quiet place in the park on Sunday than the citizens of West Allis, where there are only 26 square feet of park per person. But the residents of Tonawanda are better off than those of any other city in the state since each person in the city could walk out to one of the three parks and have 7,260 square feet of ground to himself.

The city establishes its highest record, when it comes to park facilities, in the number of comfort stations provided. It ranks fourth in the state in this respect, with Sheboygan, Milwaukee and Racine leading.

Incidentally, according to the 1930 census were twelve acres of land to every inhabitant in the state of Wisconsin. This is five acres less than in 1900.

Sportsmen's Club Leases Land Good for Hunting

Not content with the uncertainty in getting game on their hunting trips, members of the Calumet County Sportsmen's club have for a number of years followed a plan whereby they needn't come home empty-handed.

The club has leased about 2,000 acres of land in Calumet, Brown and Manitowish counties, which is reported the pick of the hunting areas in those counties.

For a fee of $125 to residents of the county and $225 to non-residents, hunters are given the privilege of hunting in the restricted areas. Pheasants rabbits and ducks are reported to be plentiful in the preserves, and the club has been doing its part in putting pheasants in the area and planting fish in the Manitowish river, which runs through it, and in the area lakes. No fee is required to fish the lakes or river.

From 500 to 600 hunters pay the fee each year to hunt in the preserve. Of course, hunting of game may only take place during open season.

The sportsmen's club has been functioning for a number of years and has a membership of over 500 hunters. Howard Leppla, Brillion, is president of the organization. Wilbur Schinke, Brillion, is secretary; Charles Koch, Brillion, treasurer, and Frank Wiegert, Forest Junction, vice president.

A hunting stamp is furnished by the club when a fee is paid and this must be worn by the sportsman when in the preserve. The stamps may be had at the Sportsmen's tavern, Frank Kleiber tavern and Koch Furniture store, Brillion.

Liberty Bell Pupils

Complete Study Unit

Reading classes of the Liberty Bell rural school have completed work on the study unit, "Our Outdoor Friends," and will begin "Make Believe Stories" during the next six weeks, according to Miss Dorothy Johnson, teacher. The upper grades have been studying colonization in history and worked out a sand table project locating the various colonies.

A literary society has been organized for the first semester and officers are: Virgil Young, president; Herbert Hooyman, vice president; Hildagard Hooyman, secretary; Earl Keesler, treasurer, and Grace Thornton, news reporter.

Vikes Oppose Carls in Dad's Day Grid Battle

Lawrence Closes Week's Work With Defensive Drills

BOB ARTHUR OUT
Veteran Tackle Has Injured Knee; Buesing Also Ailing

By The Associated Press

|          | W. L. T. Pct. |
|----------|---------------|
| Carleton | 2 0 1 .000    |
| Cornell  | 2 0 1 .000    |

LAWRENCE college griders will clash with Carleton college of Northfield, Minn., at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Whiting field in the feature attraction of a Dad's day program which started this evening and will continue all day tomorrow. The game is a Midwest conference contest.

Carleton again comes to Appleton leading the Midwest conference and pointing for its second straight grid victory. Time was when the Carls always were at the top but they slipped for a while and only recently have again dominated the picture. Last week Carleton beat Ripon, 7 to 0, and the week previous tripped Coe.

Carleton has a squad composed of 13 lettermen but at least two sophomores have shown enough class to supplant the veterans. One of them, Bob Minkin, halfback, galloped 45 yards against Ripon to score the Carls' only marker.

Work on Defense
Lawrence completed the week's heavy drills last night with a long workout on defense. The backs and ends knocked down passes until late in the afternoon while the line-men spent most of the time pushing each other around. The last few minutes of the workout was on rushing punters and getting down under punts.

Lawrence goes into the game, however, sadly handicapped by injuries and lack of talent. Evan Vande Walle still isn't able to play while Buesing has missed several drills because of a bruise and no one knows when Westberg's shoulder injury will re-occur.

In the line, Dick Garvey has been working out but he's toting a big pad where he landed after being swept off his feet at Cornell and Bob Arthur's knee will keep him out of play altogether. The result is that numerous sophomore replacements, considerably short on football knowledge, will have to be used.

Indications are that Burton and Crawford will show at the end positions with Jack Bodilly at one tackle and Captain Tut Grode at the other with Bill Masterson a replacement. The guards will be Chuck Gerlach and Hatten, the former recovered from a week's illness, while Garvey will be at the pivot post.

Martzwiler at Quarter
In the backfield, the starting line-up probably will be Martzwiler at quarter directing the offense and backing up the line on defense.

Novakofski at one half and Buesing at the other with Westberg in the fullback's berth.

The game will see use of Lawrence's new loudspeaker system purchased during the week. It will be used to announce features of the ball game, scores of the big football games in the middle west and the world series in New York.

Lawrence authorities also have announced that the practice of admitting the "knot hole gang" free has been discontinued. The youngsters will have to pay 10 cents admission charge. The tickets are available at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A.

In the other Midwest conference games this weekend, Beloit plays Cornell and probably will take a trimming to give Cornell its third conference win, while Coe goes to Monmouth with the outcome a toss-up. Knox plays Lake Forest in a non-conference game and probably will bow to the strong Foresters while Ripon invades James Millikin with the result a tossup.

Ethel Melcher Wins Net Match in Girls Tourney
Ethel Melcher yesterday defeated Margaret Albrecht to go into the quarterfinals of the Appleton High school girls' intramural tennis tournament. Her opponents will be Doris Grimmer, who had a second round bye.

Florence Stadler won over Peggy Ogilvie and will meet the winner of the Betty Roemer-Patricia Byrne match in the quarterfinals. Edwicia Abel will have a quarterfinal bye and defeated Ruth Merwaldt in the second round.

Purples Enter Finals Of Field Hockey Meet
The Purples have advanced to the finals in the girls' intramural field hockey tournament at Appleton High school. The Oranges and the Yellows will meet this week and the winner will play the Purples for the school championship Oct. 12.

In the losers bracket, the Greens have advanced to the finals and will meet the winner of the Blues-Reds match for the consolation title. Following completion of the meet, a class tournament will be conducted.

Appleton Seeks 3rd Valley Win At Manitowoc

FRIDAY NIGHT
Oshkosh at Green Bay East.
SATURDAY AFTERNOON
Appleton at Manitowoc.

APPLETON High school griders will go after their third straight Valley conference victory Saturday afternoon when they play Manitowoc High school in the feature of the lake shore school's homecoming. The game is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock.

Manitowoc has played one conference game to date and won. The victim was Oshkosh and as the Indians were rated highly in pre-season doping and the Shipbuilders not so highly, the latter team is in high spirits. Since the win the Ships have taken things easy for two weeks and are reported to be in the pink for the Saturday encounter.

Reports are that the Ships have a fairly heavy veteran line but a light backfield which depends on its speed. However, a big 225-pound fullback takes a lot of defensive burden off the lighter backs. The big fellow is "Moose" Beduhn who showed at tackle here last year.

Have New Coaches
A new coaching staff is directing the activities of the Red and White this season, the head coach being Nello Pacetti of the University of Wisconsin and with a successful record as a mentor at West Bend while the assistant coach is Al Guepe, the other half of Marquette's famous touchdown twins. His brother Art, who starred in the Dallas, Texas, all-star game, is mentor at Marquette.

Just what Appleton high accomplished this week is a question. Each night saw the backs tossing passes and punting with the ends and backs doing the chasing. The line-men went through their blocks as usual but there wasn't any scrimmage to speak of and Chuck Sample, big back, was missing from at least three workouts. Wednesday evening a couple new plays were rehearsed but they'll have to be rehearsed some more if Sample is to learn them for he wasn't present.

Another big game this weekend is the East-Oshkosh game scheduled at Green Bay East tonight. It will determine whether the Indians are to be contenders this fall or whether East again is going to be the team to beat. East looked great last week in running up a big score against Fond du Lac, while Oshkosh didn't do so badly in playing Marinette to a 13-13 tie.

Sheboygan plays host to Green Bay West this evening and if West boys it definitely will be rated a contender despite its defeat at the hands of Appleton. The Wildcats have been coming along fast as their victory over LaCrosse last week indicated.

Machine Shops cracked out a 3-game win on the Valley Iron league as the Engineers lost two, and moved into the league lead last night at the Arcade alleys.

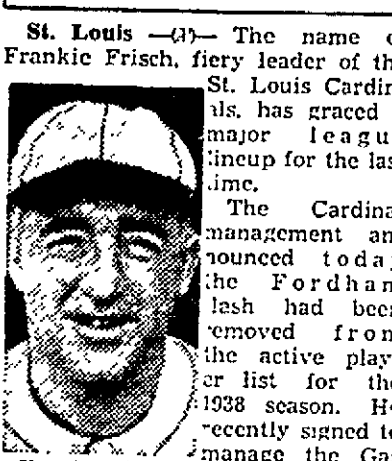

B. Burns shot a 210 game to lead the individual game field and Schinke topped the pins for a 540 series to pace the field on total scores. A 2,911 series and 1,000 game rolled by the Iron Foundry topped other team scores.

Three games were won by the Machine Shops over the Tool Rooms. A 424 series rolled by J. Knuijt was tops for the winners while B. Diemer cracked a 431 total to lead the Tool Rooms.

The Engineers lost two starts to the Brass Foundry and slipped to a second place tie. Pearson cracked the wood for a 431 series to pace the Engineers while Schinke's 540 was tops for the Foundry.

The Iron Foundry turned in a 3-game win over the Store Rooms. L. Steiner cracked the pins for a 470 series to lead the losers and F. Trender shot a 490 total to pace the Iron Foundry.

Frisch Retires as An Active Player

St. Louis (AP)—The name of Frank Frisch, fiery leader of the St. Louis Cardinals, has graced a major league lineup for the last time.

The Cardinals management announced today that the Fordham lath had been removed from the active player list for the 1938 season. He recently signed to manage the Gas House Gang next year with a reported increase in salary.

One of the outstanding playing managers of all time, Frisch played as a regular second baseman for the last time in 1935. Frisch was 39 years old Sept. 9.

Badgers Off for Game at Chicago

34 Players, 16 of Them Sophs, on Squad Which Will Meet Maroons

Madison (AP)—Thirty-four members of the University of Wisconsin football squad entrained at 8 a. m. today for Chicago, where they will meet the Chicago Maroons tomorrow.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher picked the squad last night after sending the reserves through a hard scrimmage. Sixteen sophomores were chosen. The team will work at Stagg field this afternoon.

The regulars took a long signal drill yesterday. After some extra point kicking, they retired for the day.

Erv Windward, quarterback, and Fred Benz, end, both of Milwaukee, will be ready to start against Chicago. Benz suffered a stomach ailment and Windward favored an injured leg during the past week.

The players taken to Chicago were:

Lake Winnebago, Poygan Areas Report Increase in Birds

MADISON (AP)—If the wives and mothers of some 200,000 Wisconsin hunters are at all optimistic they should be getting their waterfowl cookers ready today for 30 days service.

For tomorrow morning shotguns will boom a salute on lakes and marshes to the opening of the 1937 season on geese, brant, snipe, and all species of wild ducks except canvasback, redhead, wood, bufflehead and ruddy.

Conservation wardens in all sections of the state have reported to their chief, Barney Devine, that favorable water and nesting conditions have produced a good crop of waterfowl. Their observations corroborate those of the United States Biological survey.

"A 10 to 15 per cent. increase in all local ducks compared with last year," reported Albert Dugham of Oshkosh, warden assigned to the Lakes Winnebago and Poygan areas. "More teal and mallard," said warden Dan Trainer of Princeton, whose territory includes Lake Puckaway.

Reports Are General
Similar comment from wardens L. H. Giesen, Fountain City, John C. Worden, Plainfield, W. P. Elliott, Whitewater, W. A. Cole, Wisconsin Rapids, and Laurence Hope, Hudson, was reported by the conservation department.

A total of 244,691 resident hunting licenses were issued last year. Eighty per cent of the hunters obeyed the game census law, reporting a total kill of 734,018 ducks, 3,979 geese and brant, and 38,798 jacksnipe.

Last year's regulations restricting shooting hours to from 7 o'clock in the morning to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, limiting guns to three shells, outlawing the use of live decoys, and forbidding shooting in open water, again will be enforced by wardens and other state officers.

The daily bag limit on ducks is 10, on geese and brant 5, and on snipe 15. A state law restricts the daily kill of mudhens or coot to 10, although the federal law allows 20.

Booklets Delayed
A delay in executive approval of hunting regulations held up issuance of the booklets usually presented to license applicants. The orders were signed by Governor LaFollette this week, however, and the conservation department announced copies will be distributed to all county clerks and others authorized to issue hunting permits.

Hunting of cock pheasants will begin October 23 in 52 counties. The season has been extended to 14 days, but the daily bag limit is still two birds. Thousands of mature pheasants, reared at the state game farm at Poyonette, and by sportsmen's clubs, were released in the state during the summer and early fall.

Shooting of prairie chicken and quail will be prohibited throughout the state. Partridge also are on the protected list, except in nine southern counties where the Hungarian species may be hunted concurrently with pheasants.

Breuer Manager Will Wed Social Register

New York (AP)—Allan S. Sothoron, manager of the Milwaukee club of the American association, and Dorothy H. Clemens of fifth avenue and the social register owned a marriage license today. They said they planned to be wed next Monday in St. Bartholomew's church.

Sothoron, who served successively as coach of the St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Braves and St. Louis Browns and later as manager of the latter club, gave his age as 44. Miss Clemens was 35. His first wife died in 1934.

Dale, Black Creek Open Title Series Sunday

County Leaguers Will Battle on Creeker Diamond

Last Meeting of Teams Saw Dale Win by One-sided Score

OLD King Baseball, still reigning supreme in New York and in Outagamie county, will have another day hereabouts Sunday afternoon when Dale and Black Creek battle at the latter place in the first game of the County League's championship series. Dale won the first round honors and Black Creek the second after playing off a tie with Shiocton and Greenville Merchants.

This year's baseball history is replete with thrilling encounters between the two teams and there's no reason to believe Sunday won't produce another such game. However, the Creekers have a black page to remember in their history for in their last meeting they suffered a lopsided defeat at the hands of Dale. That afternoon the Dale clubbers pounded the ball all over the village and ran up one of the biggest totals of the season.

Black Creek, however, goes into the game with something of an edge. It has played ball for the last two Sundays while Dale has been idle and probably gotten out of the habit of hitting curves and fast ones. So whatever edge there is in keeping in condition and the batting eye keen goes to the second round champions.

Black Creek will depend on Manager John Miller's right handed tosser to win the first game while Dale will use Lefty Kaufman, its old standby. Dale probably will have the edge in the slugging for it is led by Dan Meshnick, outfielder, who led the league in batting this season with a few points under the 500 mark.

The second game of the series is booked at Dale on Oct. 17.

Mrs. Hill Out of Golf Tournament

Falls Before Mrs. Lifur Who Meets Patty Berg in Semi-Finals

Memphis (AP)—Four days ago Mrs. Gregg Lifur was just one of 120 aspirants to the national women's golf championship today was a semi-finalist and an outstanding contender for the crown.

Mrs. Lifur, three times California champion, had a new comer to the South, showed a fine assortment of shots and steady nerve yesterday in disposing of Mrs. Opal S. Mill, Kansas City matron, 2 and 1, after being three down.

Mrs. Lifur's semi-final opponent is youthful Patty Berg of Minneapolis, who registered a hard-earned, 2-up victory over Mrs. Helen Lawson Shepherd of Los Angeles. The match went to the last green after Mrs. Berg's 5-up lead at the turn had been dissipated.

Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., a semi-finalist for the second consecutive year, matched strokes with Mrs. Estelle Lawson Pace of Greensboro, N. C., in the upper bracket.

Miss Hemphill's victim yesterday was Mrs. Charles Newbold of Wichita, Kan., 4 and 3. Mrs. Page

KIMBERLY HIGH LINEMEN

Here are two of the Kimberly lads who'll have to hold the line tomorrow when the Papermakers battle St. John of Little Chute at Little Chute. The youths are, left to right, Gene Behrendt and Charles Vander Zanden, and both show at guard. Based on comparative scores the two schools are expected to stage one of the closest games of the season. (Post-Crescent Photo)

St. John Ready For Kimberly Hi Eleven Tomorrow

Village Teams Will Clash On Little Chute Gridiron

LITTLE CHUTE—St. John Catholic High school football team will be host to the Kimberly Red Devils Saturday afternoon on the ball park gridiron. The game promises to be a thriller because of the long years of rivalry between the schools and the sports traditions of the two villages.

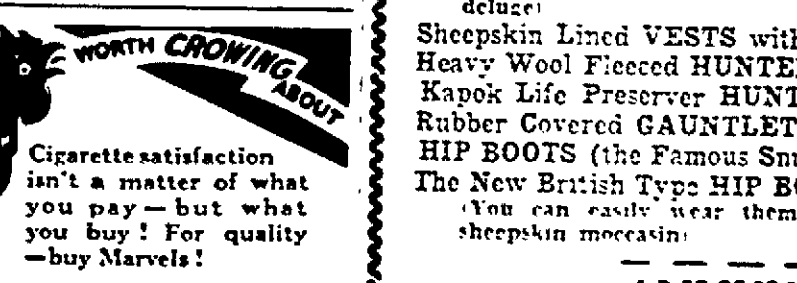

Local fans are giving Little Chute a slight offensive edge because the Hollanders scored two touchdowns on Menasha St. Mary's, which Kimberly failed to score against. However, they also are noting that by the same line of reasoning Kimberly should be better defensively for the Papermakers held St. Mary's scoreless while Little Chute was scored on twice.

Last year St. John suffered a setback at the hands of the Kimberly eleven and that defeat must be erased, according to all good Little Chute fans.

The probable starting lineups:

| Little Chute | Kimberly           |
|--------------|--------------------|
| Stebert      | LE Vanden Bonckart |
| DeBruin      | LT Van Dyke        |

Grant for Buying School Equipment To be Considered

Menasha Council, Board of Education to Hold Joint Session

Menasha—The common council will meet as a committee of the whole with the board of education tonight at the city hall to consider again a grant for the purchase of equipment for the new Menasha high school.

The action was postponed from the regular meeting of the council on Tuesday so the school board could inform the council how much money was necessary to place the new school in operation. A budget has been prepared by F. B. Younger, superintendent of schools, and S. E. Crockett, director of vocational education, giving the minimum necessary to open the school.

At a previous meeting a request of $42,000 was made to the council but no definite amount was stated in the request made Tuesday. The school board has considered the samples and bids for new equipment but is withholding action until the council makes a grant.

The council probably will determine the amount of the grant. The school board will be asked to make a grant for which no charge will be made. The city will bear the expense of the trunk lines but property owners will have to pay for the laterals and connecting lines.

Menasha Society

Menasha—Thirty-four tables of cards were in play at the B. B. E. society progressive card party Thursday evening at the homes of Mrs. Paul Fahrenkrug, Mrs. H. W. Miner, Miss Peg and Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Curt Smith. Prizes were awarded at each table. Mrs. Carl Anderson was chairman of the committee in charge and assisting her were Mrs. G. E. Floyd and Miss Reg Stewart.

Members of the Menasha Women Relief corps visited a member, Carrie Strong, Nicolet boulevard, at her home Thursday. Mrs. Strong recently returned from a Madison hospital where she underwent treatment.

Menasha Eagles will begin the first of a series of card parties at 2:30 Sunday afternoon in the Eagle Club rooms. Games will be played before and after cards.

Mrs. H. J. C. Rosenow and Mrs. Fred Reetz are co-chairmen of the public card party which the ladies of St. Patrick's Catholic church are sponsoring in the school hall Monday.

Mrs. Earl Streitz and Mrs. Louis Herzog won prizes at the Wisconsin Bridge club party Thursday in Masonic hall. Mrs. Mae Hafstrom, Mrs. Marian Haugh and Mrs. Mary Held were hostesses.

Miss Della Schanke was hostess last evening at her home on Appleton road to the members of the Merrilee club. Guests voted on the name of the club at the meeting. Miss Helen Fitzgibbon suggested the name. Plans to meet Oct. 19 at the home of Miss Esther Anderson were completed. Guests at the party were Miss Schanke, Miss Anderson, Miss Emma and Miss Mathilda Lieberhauser, Miss Grace Schwartz, Miss Lorraine Korth, Miss Helen Fitzgibbon and Miss Viola Fleiz.

Forty tables were in play at the St. John's Catholic parish ladies card party Thursday in the school hall. Prizes in schafkopf went to Mrs. Pearl Kolosinski, Blanche Fillion, Mike Shedig, Mrs. M. Kica, Antonie Pozolinski and Mrs. S. Brzycki, in rummy to A. Brzezinski, Mrs. Mary Zelinski, Mrs. Mary Sylvanowicz, Bernice Michalkiewicz, and Mrs. J. Koslowski, in whist to Frances Luka and Mrs. T. Gunther, Mrs. George Rembleski won the bridge prize.

Menasha high school Band Mothers set the date for the October card party at Wednesday, Oct. 20 when a meeting was held Thursday in the band auditorium. Cards were played during the social hour. Mrs. A. Mattern winning the whist prize, Mrs. L. E. Kraft, the bridge prize and Mrs. L. Duffeck, the schafkopf prize.

Farm Visit Climaxes Neenah School Project

Neenah—Thirty-five students of the second grade at McKinley school climaxed their farm project Thursday when they visited Clarence Zimmerman's farm. Mrs. Zimmerman directed the children on a tour of the farm, explaining the function and operation of the threshing, showed them how to milk and take care of chickens.

During the farm project activities, the children made booklets, wrote appropriate poems and stories on farms and correlated them with drawings.

Mellow Brew Pin Squad Holds Lead In Hendy League

T. Spellman Snares 616 Series as Team Wins Two Games

Menasha—The Mellow Brew team held the lead in the Hendy bowling league last night by taking two out of three games from the Clothes Shop team. T. Spellman had a 616 total and S. Romneck a 607 to lead the brew team. The Mellow Brews rolled the high game of 1,029 in their first set and followed with counts of 926 and 891 for a 2,946 total. The Clothes shop had games of 882, 891 and 960 for a 2,733 total. Peck had a 232 game for the losers.

The Shell Oils took over undisputed possession of second place by sweeping their series with the Rippl Grocers. D. Mrochinski had a high game of 237 to lead the oil team to scores of 923, 915 and 899 for a 2,737 total. The grocers had games of 871, 836 and 2,598. W. Tuschscher, bowling from scratch, had a 229 game.

The new Stadtmueller Grocery team got off to a flying start by taking all three games from the Adler Bros team despite a 633 series by M. Potter. Scores were 909, 939 and 914 for 2,762 for the losers and 947, 948 and 926 for 2,821 for the winners.

In Tie for Third Three other teams are bracketed in a tie for third place in the standings, with the Stadtmueller team. The Colonial Wonder Bar team won two games from the Waverly Beach team. The Waverly Beach team had scores of 900, 913 and 833 for a 2,646 total to counts of 887, 946 and 833 for 2,666 for the Wonder Bar team.

The Menasha Cleaners took two games from the Hendy Recreation team on scores of 919, 980 and 957 for a 2,856 total to games of 897, 906 and 978 for a 2,741 total for the Hendy team. Ashenbrenner and Hendy had games of 224 while B. Lewandowski had a 232 score.

W. Stille had a 630 series and M. Clough a 610 series to lead the Mutual Shoes to two victories over the Valley Press team. A 76 game by Streitz led the Valley Press team. Game scores were 950, 926 and 1,005 for 2,881 for the shoe team and 976, 901 and 811 for 2,718 for the Valley Press team.

C. Valien Branden had a 622 series and H. Gollner a 606 count but the Twin City Bowling team dropped two out of three games to the Normandine team. Vic Sues had a 635 series and J. Karinsky a 622 to swing the series to the Normandine team. Game scores were 918, 984 and 1,066 for 2,968 for the Normandine team and 932, 938 and 938 for 2,808 for the bowling team.

Annual Drive for Country Home Funds Will Begin Monday

Neenah—The annual drive to raise funds for the Children's Country home will start Monday, it was decided at a budget meeting of the board of trustees held Thursday afternoon at Winneconne.

The members of the board will conduct the drive. They are: R. E. Thickens, Menasha, president; Mrs. L. S. Leighton, Neenah, vice president; Mrs. A. C. Gilbert, Neenah, secretary; and S. N. Pickard, Neenah, treasurer; Mrs. E. A. Wake-man, Mrs. Mona V. Owen, E. J. Kempsey, and R. K. Schreiber, Oshkosh; Mrs. George Banta, Jr., Mrs. D. K. Brown, Mrs. H. K. Babcock, Mrs. Carlton Smith, A. C. Gilbert, and A. C. Haseloff, Neenah; Mrs. William Buchanan, Appleton; and A. Schroeder, Winneconne, and Mrs. J. S. Sensenbrenner, Menasha.

Only about half of the expense of operating the children's home is furnished by the counties which have children there, while the other half of the cost must be raised by popular subscription.

St. Mary's Ready For Kaukauna Tilt

Menasha Team Hoping for Upset in Game Saturday Afternoon

Menasha—The St. Mary grid-ders staged their final hard practice for the game at Kaukauna Saturday afternoon yesterday afternoon. The first squad took the offensive against the second string and tore off several long gains.

The Kaukauna plays were demonstrated by a freshmen team coached by Sam Kraus and the first squad went through a dummy scrimmage against them in diagnosing means of stopping the plays.

The thought that the Kaukauna team may be taking them lightly has inspired the St. Mary team with hopes for an upset. Based on records and weight, Coach Miller's alma mater ranks as favorites over the Zephyrs. However, the Zephyrs have showed power accompanied by occasional lapses when the players missed their assignments.

The squad of 26 players will leave Saturday morning for the game. Coach Marvin Miller has named Dyke and Picard to start at ends, Lignofsky and Schwartzbauer at tackles, Spalding and Alvin Koerner at guards and Rube Prunuske at center. The backfield probably will be unchanged. Schipferling at quarterback, DeYoung and Earl Grade at halfback posts, and Bill Resch at fullback. Clayton Hopfensperger probably will break into the backfield lineup.

Twin City Deaths

MRS. GERTRUDE SONNLEITNER Neenah—Mrs. Gertrude Sonnleiten, 30, former Neenah resident, died Tuesday night at Sacred Heart hospital at Eau Claire of post-operative pneumonia.

She was a daughter of William P. Grimes, former member of the Wisconsin county board of supervisors and of the Wisconsin legislature. She was born in Neenah and before her marriage she was engaged as a teacher in the rural schools of the county.

Survivors are her husband and father; one sister, Mrs. Charles Derby, Oshkosh, and four brothers, Dr. Grimes, Chicago, Leonard Grimes, Neenah, Dr. W. S. Grimes, Manitowish and John P. Grimes, Peoria, Ill.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 8:30 at the home of her husband's parents, 1313 Ninth street, and at 9 o'clock at Sacred Heart church, Oshkosh. The Rev. M. J. Schmitt will be in charge. Burial will be in Sacred Heart cemetery.

Bluejays Out to Spoil Homecoming Contest Tonight

Make 3 Changes in Menasha Lineup for Tilt At New London

Menasha—Menasha high school will attempt to spoil the homecoming celebration at New London tonight by scoring a victory over their Northeastern Wisconsin conference rivals. Practice for the game concluded with a light session yesterday at which Coach N. A. Calder warned the players not to take New London too lightly.

The game will climax their homecoming celebration and the New London team will be shooting for a victory. In addition, they have suffered three successive conference defeats and will be in the mood for an upset.

Three changes are probable in the Menasha high school starting lineup. They are: L. Osiewalski at left end for Malout, Dallman for Ray Henk at a guard and Henry Landskron at a tackle for Yaley. The rest of the lineup will probably be the same with Kolosinski, Bukysky, Grimm, and Schneider in the line. In the backfield Heiss will be at quarterback, Drucks and Floyd at the half back posts and Joseph Michalkiewicz at fullback.

Ray Henk will probably not get into the game unless absolutely necessary. He has strained the ligaments of his knee and a week's rest will put him in top shape for the rest of the season. Harold Weideman may get into the action at an end post while Finch, Tate, and Westberg are apt to see backfield service.

Sponsor Bowling Team In Commercial League

Menasha—George Stadtmueller of Neenah has announced that he will sponsor a team known as Stadtmueller's Groceries in the Commercial league at the Hendy alleys. The team formerly was known as the Meadowview Darts but was without a sponsor so far this season.

New bowling shirts and ties have been ordered by the sponsor for the team. With two first year bowlers on the team, they now have a record of 6 and 6 members of the team are John Knorr, Earl Thorson, Lawrence Porche, Ed Christensen and Roy Kaufert.

Reaper Outclassed By Stork at Menasha

Menasha—The birthrate in Menasha more than doubled the death rate during the month of September according to the monthly report of H. O. Haugh, city health officer, to the state board of health. There were 12 births, 5 deaths and 6 marriages in the city during the month.

Five cases of contagious disease also have been reported to the city health officer this week. They include two cases of scarlet fever, one of whooping cough, one of German measles and one of infantile paralysis.

Winnebago County Board Faced With Many Head-Aches

Prepare Resolutions to be Considered at November Session

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau
Oshkosh—Work is being lined up for Winnebago county board supervisors, when they meet at their annual session set by statute Nov. 9, it was indicated today by resolutions in the office of A. E. Hedke, county clerk.

A resolution already on file is that of the city of Oshkosh, passed by the council Aug. 16, 1937, and stating the aldermen have gone on record to urge the county board to take suitable steps for the resurfacing of S. Main street from ninth to sixteenth streets in Oshkosh, at the earliest convenience.

Among other important measures to be before the November county board session will be a change in the state trunk highway system and adjacent to Neenah involving state trunk highways 123, 150, 114, and old U. S. Highway 41, in Winnebago county.

Another proposed change in highway to be considered will be in the state trunk Highway 44 between Pickett and Oshkosh in the vicinity of Pickett.

A public hearing on the matter of the proposed changes to be held at the courthouse in Oshkosh the forenoon of Tuesday, Oct. 19, may give the supervisors some idea of what has to be done.

What may cause many head-aches to county board members will be consideration of the budget. A new Winnebago county garage is also known to be in the mind of some of the supervisors, and this project will be presented.

Not only the sheriff's and coroner's committee but the entire board will be interested in the proposed addition of three motorcycle policemen to the present force. This matter was put over from the last meeting.

One matter which will have to be considered, it was predicted here, is whether the county will erect a new residence for the sheriff, discontinue furnishing an official residence. Several supervisors stated it was entirely possible that Sheriff Paul Neubauer will be quartered in the present residence until the end of his term, January, 1939.

The board also will have to set the price to be paid the sheriff for meals for prisoners. At present Winnebago county allows 25 cents per meal, but with the rising cost of food, it is predicted an attempt will be made to raise this to a former level of 33 cents per meal.

Bedside Nursing Is Major Project Of VNA Program

Tuberculosis Follow-Up Work Done by Twin City Group

Neenah—Tuberculosis follow-up work and bedside nursing that is available to all are two of the major projects in the Twin City Visiting Nurse association program, made possible through funds realized from annual drives, one of which is being held this week by direct mail according to association directors headed by Mrs. George Banta Jr., of Menasha.

The safest and best method of treating tuberculosis is to have the patient go at once to a sanitarium whenever possible according to the supervisor of the visiting nurses in Neenah and Menasha, Miss Lydia Bouressa, for here the patient receives the most intelligent nursing. Because of long waiting lists, care at home is necessary when a patient cannot enter the san and here the Visiting Nurse association staff of nurses steps in to give the correct nursing and protect the family from all possibility of contagion, especially important in the case of children who are highly susceptible to tuberculosis.

Continue Work At Homes

When the patient is in the sanitarium, the Visiting Nurse association receive a copy of the physical findings and progress of the cure in order that when the patient is ready to return home, the nurse has the necessary facts and is able to continue the health program at home.

Association directors also stated during this week of their campaign for funds, that although in all its publicity it has tried to emphasize for many years that bedside nursing service is available to all, there exists yet, doubt in the minds of many.

"Bedside nursing service is by no means a mere charity service," say association directors, "even though a large proportion of the bedside nursing is given free to those who absolutely cannot afford to pay for it."

The annual contributions of members of the Visiting Nurse association pay the salaries, transportation costs and supplies of the organization's four trained nurses. If the people of Neenah and Menasha did not contribute generously to this annual budget, this free service would not be available.

Special Service

For those who are ill but do not require or cannot afford the service of a full-time nurse but who can afford part-time nursing, the Visiting Nurse association sends a nurse to bathe the patient, prepare special diets, dress wounds etc., for $1 per call.

Many members of the Visiting Nurse association's board of directors have utilized this part-time service with highly satisfactory results. It has been reported. Persons who are confined to their beds for weeks or months at a time and yet are not dangerously ill, find that these visits answer the need for bedside nursing to the patients advantage. When a family physician prescribes a long rest period in bed, a call may be placed with the Visiting Nurse office in the Theda Clark Memorial hospital office, phone 471, and the nurse can contact the family physician and under his direction give necessary care. Calls may be made into the V. N. A. office from 8 to 9 each morning, except Sundays and holidays. When the nurses are not in, district calls are taken by the hospital operator and relayed to them.

Oshkosh Man Elected Head of Dental Group

Menasha—Dr. M. L. Christensen, Oshkosh, was elected president of the Winnebago County Dental society to succeed Dr. R. J. O'Keefe, Menasha, at a meeting in Oshkosh Wednesday.

Dr. W. F. Landskron, Main street, Neenah, was named an alternate delegate to the state convention which is to be held at Milwaukee. Delegates are Dr. F. H. Younglove, Berlin, and Dr. George B. Franta, Oshkosh.

Dr. J. M. Donovan, Bond street, Neenah, is a member of the program committee of the county society, other members of which are Dr. G. A. Stratton and Dr. Fred Kroner, both of Oshkosh.

Other officers of the county organization, in addition to Dr. Christensen are Dr. Harold Bitter, Oshkosh, vice president, and Dr. B. R. Bush, Berlin, secretary-treasurer.

MacLaren Defines Rotary As 'Philosophy of Living'

Neenah—"A philosophy of living" was the definition of Rotary given by John Bruce MacLaren Appleton, in an address at a noon meeting of the Neenah Rotary club Thursday at the Valley Inn.

The former Rotary district governor asserted that the Rotary club "fills a definite niche in our everyday system of living, teaches the philosophy of living with your neighbor, helps you in improving yourself, alters your viewpoint materially and is a marked influence on the conduct of affairs in the world, community and group."

"The Rotary club is not merely a luncheon club where men gather weekly to eat together, and you cannot measure your success as a Rotarian in the dollar sign," the rotarian said.

But service above self does pay, he stated. Although there is no material gain at first the service given will eventually come back as a material benefit, the doctor pointed out.

Exchange Ideas

The Rotary club offers its members an opportunity for an exchange of ideas enabling them to learn their fellowmen's business and the good points in his vocation which they may apply to their own affairs which will profit accordingly, Dr. MacLaren explained.

"The club goes further than the golden rule: Do unto others as you would be done by, for Rotarians take the opportunity to do it first," the Appleton rotarian said.

Regularly meeting together Rotarians form an understanding of each other which leads to a confidence in each other and finally leads in a brotherhood. It is essential, however, that attendance at meetings be regular, lack of which will result in lack of fellowship, the key to the success of Rotary, Dr. MacLaren concluded.

Four new members were accepted into the Neenah club Thursday. They are R. E. Malzon, Paul Staniske, Alvin Stafford and Merlin Ridgeway.

Obtain Data for Harbor Hearing

Kaukauna—The new dark room at the high school, whose construction recently was authorized at a meeting of the school board, is almost completed, according to workmen in charge. The shelves and cabinets around the room have been installed and the plumbing connections are ready for operation.

The room will be used by high school students and teachers, and particularly by the photography club, an organization which is expected to grow rapidly with its new facilities.

Kaukauna Scouters To Attend Conference

Kaukauna—Reservations have been made from Kaukauna for the third annual fall conference of the Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America to be held this Saturday and Sunday at Gardner Dam.

The keynote address will be given by Herb Heilig, Appleton, chairman of the leadership committee, on Sunday noon. The theme of this year's conference deals with the "old boy" scouting—how to give him a leadership responsibilities and continue his service in scouting.

Four New Assistant Leaders are Named For Girl Scout Work

Kaukauna—Four new assistant leaders have been appointed among Kaukauna girl scouts. It was announced yesterday. They are Inez Flischer, Ruth Klambunde, Catherine Goggins and Vivian Reynolds.

At the first regular meeting of the year Wednesday the scouts worked in patrols and reviewed principles of fire prevention. "Five Points of Health" test, Jane Bolinski and Mary Oettinger. It was announced that four scouts had passed swimming tests while at summer camps. Beata Aufreiter, Mary Alice Flanagan, Dolores Dericks and Katherine Ann Driessen were the successful swimmers.

All scouts who intend to continue participation in scout activities this year are being urged to attend the next meeting, the date of which will be announced later. Anna Marie Van De Loo was elected one of two scribes, the other to be chosen at the next meeting.

Kaukauna Squad In Hard Practice For St. Mary Game

Wintry Winds Fail to Check Preparations for Non-Conference Tilt

Kaukauna—Wintry winds meant nothing to Coach Paul E. Little's gridders yesterday afternoon as they swept through their last hard practice before the game with St. Mary's of Menasha here tomorrow afternoon. Special attention was again given to the Kaw running attack, which to all appearances Little will rely on in both the St. Mary's tilt and the remaining conference encounters.

"St. Mary's will give us just as hard a game as West DePere or Menasha," Little said yesterday. "and it will again be a game in which the breaks will have much to do with the winner." Before the New London game Little had prophesied that the Kaws had to get the breaks to win, with his reputation as a seer being enhanced when the Kaws' three touchdowns came from three breaks.

Attention again was given to the reserves yesterday. The second stringers lined up with Rohan and Woods at ends, Vette and Pamel at tackles, Andrejeski and Hilgenberg at guards, Wolfe at center, and Schubring, McLaughlin, Ashe and Meyer in the backfield. The second team followed the example of the varsity in going through their running plays most of the afternoon.

Grade school children will be admitted to future home games for 10 cents, according to Olin G. Dryer, school principal. The children were admitted free to the opening game of the season.

Fire at Servaes Tavern Causes Little Damage

Kaukauna—The Kaukauna fire department answered its first October call at 11:30 yesterday morning when it put out a small blaze in the rear of Tony Servaes' tavern on Wisconsin avenue. Little damage was done.

New London Society

New London—Eighteen tables of cards were played at the public card party of the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary at the club-rooms Thursday evening. Prizes were as follows: schafkopf, Mrs. J. Hetzer, Mrs. Fred Fuerst, Fred Schwandt and Louis Abraham; five hundred, Mrs. Ed Kleinbrook, Mrs. D. A. Vandree and Ed Kleinbrook; door prizes, Mrs. J. E. Jeffers, Del Coliar and Mrs. Reinhold Kaepnick.

Mrs. E. Lyon entertained Thursday Bridge club yesterday afternoon. The prize went to Mrs. Norman Orlieb. Next week Mrs. J. W. Monsted will be hostess.

The Old Settlers club met with Mrs. Leslie Freeman yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Heath will entertain next week.

W. T. Comstock, New London publisher, was guest speaker of the Lutheran Men's club at the church parlors last night. He discussed the possibilities of a community where all clubs and organizations work in a spirit of close cooperation and as one example he visualized the development of the Wolf river and the city's resources into a major tourist attraction. Lunch was served after the discussion. About 75 men were present.

Missionaries to Talk On Sino-Jap Conflict

New London—Japan and its present reaction to the Sino-Japanese conflict and the feeling of the general citizenry will be the subject of an address by Mr. and Mrs. Leeds Gulick, missionaries from the far east, at a program at the Congregational church at 7:30 Sunday evening. The public has been invited.

The missionary couple has been at work in Japan for more than 15 years. They are employed as heads of the kindergarten and opportunity school for boys and girls at Matsuyama. They are now on their return to the east after spending a vacation in America.

New London Grid Squad Will Meet Menasha Tonight

Homecoming Parade Will Precede Conference
Football Game

New London—Student enthusiasm is at a high pitch in this town today as New London High school tonight prepares to battle Menasha High school gridders in a North-eastern Wisconsin conference game as the finale to the annual homecoming celebration.

Tonight at 7 o'clock students will form a parade of high school floats and proceed down Dorset street to North Water, through town and S. Pearl street and return to the city athletic park where the starting whistle will mark the kick-off under the lights at 8 o'clock.

Last night, following a bonfire and meeting at the Washington high school grounds, several hundred students filed behind the pep band and marched through the city's main streets as a preliminary to tonight's show. The Rev. F. S. Dayton delivered a short pep talk at the bonfire meeting.

Hold Pep Program

School spirit was boosted to the high by a hilarious 3-minute "melodramatic" pep program presented by veterans of the high school Thespian troupe at a 3:15 assembly in the auditorium this afternoon.

Entitled "The Brink of Doom" or "How Heroic, Handsome Harry New London Wrought Revenge on Rascally Rudolph Menasha," the miniature play followed the old time-worn theme of the villain, the mortgage, the girl and the hero. Ruth Sawall played the part of Nell Victory. Robert Wilkinson was her Papa; Alan Fonstad starred as Rudolph Menasha and Douglas Hanson as Harry New London. Harry Herres did the superfluous announcing. The playlet was an original one by Alan Fonstad.

All footballers will be in fine condition and ready to play. Who will take Knapstein's place as guard may not be determined until the team is set to go but Magalska, Pappi and Huzzar appear as the prospects. Meshnick and Restle may alternate at center. Evan Stern is back at guard, Hayward and Dobberstein at tackle and Hammerberg and Meinhardt at ends. The backfield will show as usual.

Loerke to Speak At K. of C. Dinner

New London Knights to Celebrate Columbus
Day Monday

New London—The Rev. Father Loerke of Black Creek will be the principal speaker at the Columbus day banquet of the New London Knights of Columbus Monday evening. It was announced at the regular meeting of the council at the Catholic parish hall Tuesday night. A large number are expected at the banquet and a dance will be held afterward at the parish hall.

The dinner will be served at 7 o'clock sharp by the first group of the Senior sodality. The Rev. H. J. Schmitt of Birnamwood, former assistant pastor here, will act as toastmaster. Robert M. Connolly, district deputy from Appleton, will be a guest at the affair.

Committee chairmen were named by William Garot, grand knight, as follows: Dr. R. L. Fitzgerald, Catholic activity; Dr. F. S. Loss, council program; Francis Yost, membership; R. D. Wilkinson, insurance; A. J. Brault, publicity.

New London Personals

New London—Mrs. E. H. Smith, Mrs. Leonard Cline, Mrs. W. P. Brown and Mrs. D. B. Egan were visitors at the convention of the Diocesan council of Catholic Women at Green Bay Wednesday.

Miss Marianne Hippler of Milwaukee is convalescing from a recent illness at the home of her parents here. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hippler.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Elsholtz at Community hospital Thursday morning. Mrs. Elsholtz is the former Virginia Eggers.

Mrs. Otto Steinbach, Ogdensburg, and Miss Thelma Gunderson of Scandinavia submitted to operations at Community hospital yesterday.

D. B. Egan, now with the government's internal revenue department, returned to his office at Milwaukee this week after spending two weeks in this district.

Elect Directors of New London Golf Club

New London—Dr. George W. Polzin was reelected and four new members were named to the board of directors of the New London Golf club at the annual stockholders meeting at the Sprinvale clubhouse Wednesday evening.

New directors are G. A. Vandree, A. C. Krause, D. N. Stacy and E. H. Schulz. The group will elect their officers at a later date.

Four Volleyball Teams At Men's Gym Session

New London—Four full volleyball teams appeared for the men's recreation period at Washington High school gym last night. Many regular players were unable to attend because of other engagements but are expected to join next week.

Practice games were held last night and team organization probably will take place next week according to R. M. Shortell, director.

Grocer Charged With Sale of Illegal Meat

New London—Joseph Block, Scandinavia grocer, withheld his plea when he was arraigned before Justice F. A. Archibald in police court here Wednesday on a charge of selling adulterated chopped meat and a hearing of his case was set for Monday, Oct. 18, at 2 o'clock at Archibald's office. He was released on bail of $200, pending the hearing.

The defendant was arraigned on complaint of John J. Brokish, food inspector with the dairy and food division of the state department of agriculture and markets, who visited Block's store in September and took samples of the meat.

Three Teams Play In New Verifine Bowling League

William Karuhn, Jr., Set
Pace With 539-Pin
Series

New London—With three teams on three alleys, Team 1 of the Verifine league drew the bye and won three and lost three games in the launching of a new league on Frab's North side alleys last night. Team 2 set the pace with two wins, a high total of 2,358 and high game of 916. William Karuhn, Jr., topped all individual scores with his 539 series. His game of 184 was beaten by Lyle McCully's 185. ## Reach Agreement On Street Project

City Committee Confers With Rail Engineer on Extension Proposal

New London—A tentative agreement whereby each party will do its own part of the work in the extension of E. Quincy street across the Chicago and Northwestern railway tracks was reached at a meeting of an ad hoc committee with a rail engineer at the office of City Attorney Giles H. Putnam yesterday afternoon.

According to the plan the railroad company will stand the expense of changing switches, installing mud rails, railroad signals and other rail paraphernalia while the city will take care of the grading.

Mrs. Albert Oestreich, 1017 Shiocton street, died Wednesday night after an illness of two years. After graduation from high school here he spent two years in the Civilian Conservation corps.

Minor Claims Allowed Against Hatten Estate

New London—Minor claims against the William H. Hatten estate to the amount of $531.12 were ordered paid by Judge A. M. Scheller of Waupaca this week. It was revealed by Attorney Walter Melchior. The administrators objected to allowance of bills amounting to approximately $60,000 until the claimants had filed formal allegations as to the basis of the claims. Melchior said. The attorneys indicated objections against many claims may be withdrawn after the formal issues have been raised.

Both parties must report back to authoritative heads for approval and the plan must prove satisfactory to the public service commission before the proposal becomes final.

Aldermen Emans, Litts and Springmire will report back to the council at the next meeting. A hearing on the matter will be set by the commission as soon as the body is informed of the extent of the proposals.

Offer Made For the Sole Purpose of Acquainting More Women With DREFT... The Amazing and Revolutionary New Procter & Gamble Suds Discovery That...

- (1) Completely BANISHES Dingy, Soapy, HARD WATER SCUM—Prevents Premature Dulling and Graying of Colors in Dainty, Expensive Things.
- (2) Makes 5 Times GREATER SUDS Than Any Soap in the HARDEST WATER. Not A Water Softener—A Complete Washing Agent.
- (3) Can't Possibly Harm Any Color or Fabric That's Safe in Plain Water—Yet Takes Out Lipstick and So-Called "Impossible" Smudges.
- (4) Rinses Out COMPLETELY and THOROUGHLY—No Soapy Deposit Left.

DON'T DELAY... ACT AT ONCE... WHILE SUPPLY LASTS

Simply Do This
 To Keep Your Loveliest Things Looking Colorful, Fresh and Gay: Go To Your Dealer and Buy A 25c Size Package Of Dreft. Then, For Only 1c More—Receive A Full Size 15c Package To Try. Money Back If Not Satisfied.

Procter and Gamble makes this remarkable offer—a regular fifteen-cent package of DREFT for 1¢—for the sole purpose of inducing more women to try this amazing and utterly new washing creation. So that they can see for themselves that here at last is the way to wash fine things perfectly and with utter safety to any color or fabric that plain water won't harm.

Just go to your dealer's and get a big, economy size twenty-five-cent package of DREFT. And you'll receive for ONLY ONE CENT, a regular 15c package of DREFT (a 15c package marked especially to sell at 1c during this sale).

Banishes Troublesome, Dingy, Color-Dulling, Hard-Water Scum

If you enjoy keeping your dainty, delicate, expensive things looking fresh, colorful and gay—even after scores of washings—you owe it to yourself to try DREFT.

(Process and product patented U. S. letters patent, 1,968,793 to 7 inclusive) the most amazing washing discovery in over 2000 years! For DREFT brings an entirely new conception of how long you can wear lingerie, children's and fine woollens without seeing them grow dim, dull and lifeless. And the chief reason for this is because DREFT can't possibly form any hard-water "scum."

This "scum" which you always see in your rinse water, is unnoticeable in your wash water—yet it is there, doing its vicious work, wash after wash, dulling the lustre of your sheer lingerie, spotting and streaking silk stockings. And this is true even though you have used what, before the discovery of DREFT, was recognized as the best, most expensive, soap known for washing fine fabrics.

Amazing as this may seem, DREFT ends all this because it can't form scum. And even more amazing, DREFT actually removes the stubborn, clinging scum particles that failed to rinse away in previous soap washings—lets "scum-dulled" colors come up to their true brilliance. You'll be thrilled to see the delicate colors and feel the silky softness of your sheerest stockings "wash back" in DREFT suds.

5 Times Greater Suds

In addition, DREFT does these three remarkable things no single soap has ever done, or can do now: Makes 5 times greater suds than any soap in the hardest water. Cleans thoroughly—even lipstick and so-called "impossible" smudges. Rinses out completely—no soapy deposit left.

By comparison DREFT makes even the purest soap you have ever known seem harsh—because DREFT suds contain no alkali. Alkali in soaps suds is what fades colors. DREFT suds are the only suds you can get that do not contain alkali. You'll be astonished how, wash after wash, silk stockings actually seem like new when you use DREFT. It's economical too. For instance, in hard water, you need only use half as much DREFT as you would the finest soap flakes. We don't ask you to take our word for these amazing claims. Prove them for yourself at our risk.

Take Advantage of 1c Sale Today
 Please take special notice that this unusual 1c bargain sale is limited. You can only get 1¢ DREFT while your dealer's stock lasts. Remember to get DREFT today. Your money back if you're not satisfied. Act quickly and avoid disappointment.

First Lecture of Series Is Offered

Political Science Course Is Opened at Waupaca Library

Waupaca—The first of a series of eight lectures on current social, economic and political problems, feature of the extension division of the University of Wisconsin, opened at the club rooms in the library Wednesday evening. More than fifty have enrolled in the course which includes one lecture each Wednesday evening, presented by Howard W. McMurray, professor of political science.

Prof. McMurray summarized the recent election in New York city and also discussed that in Detroit when the CIO and the A. F. of L. took prominent part regardless of party affiliation at this first meeting.

His subject as announced for Oct. 13 is: Why have the Democratic and Republican parties changed "right-about-face" since their organization three generations ago? When the Democrats first formed their party they believed in states rights as opposed to a strong central government in Washington, while the opposite was true of the Republicans.

On Oct. 20 the war situation in the Far East, how it effects the whole world and particularly the United States, will be his subject.

The Lions club is sponsoring the lectures.

CAP CAUSES ACCIDENT

Charleroi, Pa. — (AP) — The starched point of a nurse's cap caused an accident which nearly disrupted an emergency operation at a hospital here.

Dr. A. S. Sickman of North Charleroi, operating surgeon, turned suddenly to read the patient's chart and the point of a nurse's cap lacerated his left eye.

Grandma's Ginger Cookies now twice as good made with Spry

Clip and save this Spry recipe:
GRANDMA'S GINGER COOKIES.
 1 cup Spry 1 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon salt 1 egg, well beaten
 1 teaspoon soda 1 cup molasses
 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 cup sour milk
 1 teaspoon ginger 4 cups sifted flour
 Combine Spry, salt, soda and spices and blend. Add sugar and cream well. (Quickly done with triple-creamed Spry.) Add beaten egg and mix thoroughly. Add molasses and sour milk. Add flour and blend well.
 Drop from tip of teaspoon on baking sheets greased with Spry. (Or press through pastry bag.) Let stand a few minutes, then flatten cookies by stamping with a glass covered with a damp cloth. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 7 1/2 dozen.
 (All measurements in this recipe are level)

TRY them today—see how easy to make, how smoothly Spry blends with your other ingredients. Home-making experts for 281 newspapers say it's the creamiest shortening they ever used. Gives lighter cakes, flakier pastry, crispier fried foods and so digestible! Get Spry today—the money-saving 3-lb. can.

Spry The new, purer ALL-vegetable shortening—TRIPLE-CREAMED!

MELO transforms hard water... makes it soft as rain-water. No unpleasant scum... no ring around the tub or dishpan. MELO makes all cleaning easier because it makes all water soft! Made by the makers of Santiflush. Sold by all grocers in two handy sizes.

FUEL

At this time of Year it's the natural Thing to make Arrangements for Fuel for the coming Winter — be it Coal, Wood, Oil, Gas or Electricity — because you know it will be needed.

By the same Token, don't forget that the Human Body needs more Fuel now too — be it Beef, Pork, Lamb, Veal or Poultry, it furnishes the required Heat and Energy.
MEAT IS THE MAINSTAY OF THE MEAL.

PIGGLY WIGGLY

"All I wanted was Dog Food," a customer said, who came into Piggly Wiggly from another store. "There were about five people ahead of me, and one lady who hadn't anything else in the world to do but argue with the clerk. I waited patiently at first, then my feet began to get tired and my nerves raw. Finally, I walked out and came in here. It's so much easier to wait on yourself instead of waiting your turn!"

the dark ships BY HULBERT FOOTNER

Chapter 10

A Skiff Steals Up

NEILL rowed softly on around the flotilla. The big ships lay side by side and staggered; that is to say, the first pointing down-stream, the second upstream and so on. Each was double anchored at bow, and further secured at the stern by steel cables running to groups of piles driven deep into the river bottom. There were no openings in the hulls, no protruberances to climb up by, no convenient ropes left dangling. The sheer bulk of the silent vessels was overpowering.

About 200 yards separated the inside vessel from the shore. This ship had a wooden stairway let down over her side with a platform at the bottom having several skiffs tied to it. Neill dared not use the stairway for if a watch was kept anywhere on board it would certainly be at the head of it. High above their heads there was a light showing in the captain's quarters on the bridge. All else was dark.

Neill rowed on until he had completed a full circuit of the ship. He saw that he could not climb aboard by the anchor chains. The disappeared into hawse-holes in the bows and from these holes there was no way of reaching the deck. His best bet appeared to be one of the steel cables on the third ship from the shore. This 'cable' passed under the rail of the lower deck astern, an out-of-the-way part of the ship where no watchman was likely to be lurking.

"Will you stay in the skiff while I climb aboard?" he asked.

"Can't I come with you?"

"You couldn't climb over the cable."

She drew a long breath to steady herself. "Very well, I will wait."

Neill tied the skiff to the bunch of piles and, divesting himself of jacket and boots, stood on the soles and sprang for the cable over his head, his legs kicking in the air. The way seemed endless and he slowed down more and more as his arms tired. It required a powerful effort of the will to cover the last few yards. Finally he was able to grasp the rail and draw himself up.

In Stocking Feet

He found himself on a little working deck aft, much cluttered with coiled hawsers and the steering gear of the vessel. In order to get forward, he had to climb

237 Wisconsin Lakes Improved With WPA Money

Conservation Department Announces Completion of Projects

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau) Madison — The state department of conservation today pointed proudly to the conservation activities of the Works Progress administration in Wisconsin, as it announced the total number of jobs completed with the aid of WPA funds.

Highlights in the projects are the improvement of 237 Wisconsin lakes, building of 80,000 lake improvement structures, including brush refuges, sapling tangles, and others, stream improvement on 89 trout streams for a total distance of 450 miles, removal of slash and brush from more than 35,000 acres of second growth timber, construction of 21 sub-ranger stations, remodeling equipment at 16 fish hatcheries, construction of dams, and many others.

Restore Marsh Area
In order to restore what is known as the central Wisconsin marsh area, the construction of approximately 220 drainage ditch dams has been undertaken. These dams will make it possible to control the level of water over an area of 430,000 acres which had been drained, and allow the area to become again a fish and game refuge, restoration of cranberry marshes, and the promotion of flood control.

What the department called "major WPA conservation achievements," included the following in the Appleton area:

Shavanna county: lake improvement on 9 lakes; stream improvement on six streams for a total of 17 miles; fire hazard reduction on 15 acres; 13 miles of roadside clearance; planting of 5,388 trees and construction of a ranger station at Bowler.

Waupaca county: improvement of 14 lakes, and four streams, totaling 8 miles, three miles of roadside cleanup, three miles of fire lanes; 22,000 trees planted; construction of five trout ponds.

Winnebago county: construction of boats and trailers for fire prevention work.

Pupils Keep Perfect Attendance Records

Five students of the Speel school in the town of Buchanan were neither absent nor tardy during September, according to Miss Mildred Chappin, teacher. They are Kenneth Van Dyke, Merlyn and Shirley Modersohn, Shirley Bunn and Hildegarde Van Hoorn.

Ten pupils at the Wide Awake school in the town of Greenville maintained perfect attendance records, according to the teacher, Oliver R. Schultz. They are Erna Herzfeldt, Gordon Sigl, Clarence, Hulda and Max Herzfeldt, Harry Hendricks, Helen Ashcroft, Clifford Braeger, Donna Lenz and Lawrence Wostenberg.

Former Lawrence Faculty Member Author of Article

Horace S. Fries, former assistant professor of psychology and philosophy at Lawrence college, now at the University of Wisconsin, is the author of a paper appearing in the current number of the Philosophical Review.

The paper is entitled "Method of Proving Ethical Realism" and attempts an explanation of how ethical standards can be tested to determine their adequacy.

4,000 Bushels of Corn Husked at Asylum Farm

Corn husking at the Outagamie county asylum farm has been completed and the crop of about 4,000 bushels stored for the winter, according to Thomas Flanagan, superintendent. Work on fall plowing has been resumed. About two weeks were spent in husking corn.

Students Publish Paper at Junior High School

The Rooseveltian, junior school newspaper, was issued this week by the student editorial staff. Contained in the paper were stories of class meetings, teachers' meetings, girls and boys athletics, a student opinion column, student vacation notes and a humor column. The paper will be issued each month.

the dark ships

ladder. This brought him to the upper promenade deck. It was an endless and ghostly promenade now, lined with dark windows that were like watching eyes. He tried every door that opened on deck, but all were locked. He crossed over to the outermost vessel.

Had anybody approached, there was no cover anywhere in the promenades, and he ascended by a deck ladder to the boat deck. Here, with the boats hanging from the davits, the ventilators and innumerable other objects, he had plenty of cover. In his stocking feet he went noiselessly from shadow to shadow.

This vessel was the largest of the four and from the boat deck he overlooked the other ships. He searched the decks for any glimmer of light that might reveal a watchman on his rounds. Nothing showed. The windows in the captain's quarters on the first ship were now as dark as the rest. The four great hulks lay under the stars like ships of the dead.

At the forward end of the boat deck he descended two ladders to the main deck, and explored as well as he was able in the dark. There was no sound except the endless gentle lapping of the water against the steel hulls. From this deck there was a wooden gangway over to the next vessel.

Returning to the promenade deck, Neill was able to search along the port side with his flashlight since he was hidden here both from the other ships and the shore. On a ring-buoy hanging from the rail he read her name: Abraham Lincoln. He saw several odd-shaped bundles against the wall and found to his joy that they were Jacob's ladders. A way of getting Janet safe aboard.

But first he felt he must satisfy himself as to how much watching was done aboard these ships at night. He crept across the gangway to the next ship and explored the deck, watching and listening, taking advantage of every bit of cover; then to the next, and finally to the last, the one nearest shore. He knew this vessel was inhabited.

She was of an older type of construction and had two promenade decks, upper and lower. From the lower deck, the stairway led down to the small boats. Neill crouched at the corner and, peeping around, stretched his ears to listen.

He heard a gentle snoring. He crept forward, pressing his body against the wall, pausing between each step to listen. Dimly he made out the shape of a deck chair before him with a man's body in it, relaxed. The watchman.

Another Skiff
Noiselessly he backed away around the corner, and made haste to return across the four decks joined by gangplanks. He figured that he could have Janet aboard in a few minutes, and certainly he would get no better opportunity than now while the watchman was taking a nap.

He unrolled the Jacob's ladder and, lashing the end to the rail, lowered it overboard. Stripping to his underclothes, he stuffed shirt and breeches behind the other ladders, and went overboard. At the bottom of the ladder he let himself noiselessly into the water, and struck out towards the spot where he had left the skiff.

When the little boat loomed before him a sudden fear gripped him because he couldn't see Janet's figure outlined against the night sky. The skiff seemed empty. He caught hold of the gunwale and pulled himself up. "Janet!"

She answered him from the bottom of the skiff in a scarcely audible voice: "Neill! ... Oh, Neill!" He hastily climbed in. "What's the matter, Jen? ... I can't touch you because I'm dripping wet. Did anything happen?"

"Somebody is watching us," she whispered.

"How could that be out here in

Distribute Check Lists to Locate Hazards in Homes

Red Cross Move Designed To Reduce Accident Toll

Check lists for common hazards in and about the home, compiled by the American Red Cross, are being distributed in Outagamie county, according to Mrs. S. C. Shannon, secretary of the county Red Cross chapter.

Statistics show that more than one third of all fatal accidents and the dark? What makes you think so?"

"I saw him. Neill! ... Another skiff stole up. It came so quietly I didn't hear anything. I turned my head and there it was. Quite close. With a single figure in it. Watching. I thought maybe you had got a boat somewhere and I spoke your name ... He never answered ..."

"Did he speak at all?"

"No. Just faded into the darkness ... I thought you would never come!"

Janet and Neill board and explore the black ship, tomorrow.

nearly half of all injuries are suffered in or about the home. The annual toll is 39,000 killed, 150,000 crippled and 5 million injured.

The secretary advises that all items on the list be checked to prevent accidents. Floors and stairways should be checked for lighting and loose rugs. Railings, screenings and foundations of porches and balconies, of not in good repair, cause serious accidents.

A check should be made to ascertain of electric appliances are safe, of wiring is insulated, of the gas burners are properly adjusted and of connections are free from leakage. Sharp tools should be kept in safe places. Sharp edges on tops should be protected.

If the chimney has not been cleaned recently, it should be cleaned and the pipe connections checked. Fireplaces should be properly screened and matches kept in safe places. Disposal of rubbish as well as broken furniture should be made promptly.

Poisons, with containers clearly marked, always should be stored in a locked compartment and garage doors always should be left open when the motor of the car is running, the secretary stated.

The Manchoukuo flag has five colors, representing the races of the Hans, Manchous, Japanese, Koreans and Mongols.
